ACHS grows Board OK's new school

by GLORIA DAVIS
Lakeland Newspaper

At a special meeting of the Antioch Comm. High School Board of Education, the board, following the recommendations of Citizens Advisory Committee, decided "that it would be in the best interest of the community to construct a new high school and to look for ways to utilize the exiting school building."

The board, by a 7-0 vote, approved proceeding with the idea of building a new high school, estimated to cost $32 million, and to place the question on the ballot of the April 2, 1991 election.

The location of the new school is still in question, with the site of Polley Field at the intersection of Grass Lake and Deep Lake Rds. one of the areas being considered. The school district already owns that land.

Although the estimated cost of $32 million is just that, an estimate, using that as a base, the owner of a $125,000 home in the school district could see an additional $150 plus per year on his property tax bill. This is figuring a nine cent per $100 of assessed valuation increase.

The board has been discussing the possibility of the area grade schools using the existing high school building to solve their growth problems if a new high school is built. The grade school districts have agreed to varying degrees of support for this idea.

At the special meeting which had approximately 20 people in the audience, one resident asked if the board had "thoroughly considered temporary space solutions."

ACHS Supt. Gary Allen said the growth committee and the board had given due consideration to expanding the school day, classes being held all year, portable classrooms, moving the administration offices to other quarters (which would add approximately three classrooms), and running school in double shifts.

"We don't want to disrupt the education process and many of these alternatives would do that," said Allen.

Other long-range alternatives to solving the estimated student growth problem in the school district area included consolidation with Grayslake High School Dist. 127; adding 30 classrooms at a cost of $3,600,000, a swimming pool at $3 million, a P.E. complex for $2.5 million; and demolishing 1915 section of high school (cost $250,000) and replacing it (Continued on Page 6)

Villages have ally in commuter fight

by BILL SCHROEDER
Lakeland Newspapers

If officials of Fox Lake, the Round Lake area and Grayslake are puzzled over a Metra plan affecting their communities with curtailed commuter service, they have a ready ally in a long-time political activist experienced in doing battle with utilities and public agencies.

Both the commuting public residing in "end-of-the-line" areas of the north line and officialdom are questioning the proposed dead-heading of 11 trains daily from the Fox Lake departure to a first stop at Libertyville.

Metra spokespersons explained that the cutback for Fox Lake, Round Lake and Grayslake riders is part of an effort to reduce costs, improve efficiency and cut travel time to Chicago.

The proposal already has been questioned by Ursula Eichhorn, former district representative to the Consumers Utility Board (CUB) and a veteran rail commuting "watcher."

Above chart shows what the Fox Lake departure times of the Milwaukee Road line had been if Metra had not scrapped plans to dead-head 11 trains daily instead of the proposed three. Metra reduced the number to three because of public protest.

Eichhorn resides in Ingleside and has been a rail commuter for more than 20 years. She already has a victory in the latest round of rail commuter rhubarbs—keeping the Ingleside station open.

In a letter to Metra Chairman G. Richard Tidwell, Eichhorn wrote:

"It appears that the monies saved by eliminating the few trains that currently stop at Ingleside is nothing compared with the monies Metra would be spending on its Libertyville, Lake Forest and Deerfield commuters by increasing their service.

Trains that are over half empty would run past at least four stations so that commuters in Libertyville, Lake Forest and Deerfield would have an available seat.

"For the past 23 years years Metra has told me, quite adamantly, that I was purchasing transportation with my ticket, not a seat. Well if it is indeed transportation I am buying, and the taxpayers are helping support, and the stations are already built, it seems to make good sense to me to stop where potential riders are, pick them up and make the most of the train's ability to transport."

In another communication to Tidwell, Julia Chonis, secretary of Life for All representing senior citizens and handicapped, pointed out that the far-out commuters pay more to ride to Chicago than the commuters riding shorter distances. The increased fare for far-out riders should offset lower ridership, claimed Chonis, a resident of Fox Lake Hills.

Public officials said they are looking into the Metra proposal which is due for board action later this month.

FOOT NOTES

HAMMERTOE DEFORMITY

A deformed toe is one of the most common conditions affecting the foot. This condition is often called a hammertoe, mallet toe or an overlapping toe.

A hammertoe is a flexible or rigid contraction of a toe. It is caused by a weakness in the small foot muscles of the foot which stabilize the toe. This muscle imbalance causes the toe bones to assume an abnormal position.

Shoes will often lead to abnormal pressure and friction on the top of the toe, resulting in a painful inflammation of the above toe joint. Often, this leads to a hard corn formation. If left untreated, this condition may progress to ulcers or infections.

Various forms of treatment available are trimming and padding of the corn, injections to relieve pain and inflammation, orthotics (inserts in shoes to correct improper walking), removing a section of toe bone to correct the deformity.

If you are suffering from this condition, or have any further questions contact Dr. Lee M. Tisa for a NO COST CONSULTATION to discuss your treatment options.

Drains Run Slow?

You'll never have a slow running, or clogged drain again! The secret? Clean drains don't run slow.

Slow drains, or periodic clogs, are SIGNALS that a thick layer of GOOK is choking your pipes. Grease, hair, and other waste stick to your pipes, with every use. This gook deposits along the entire length of the pipe. It chokes your pipes gradually, as it gets thicker and thicker.

Conventional drain openers can't fix slow drains. They react chemically on the surface of the gook. To be effective, they must remain in contact with the waste. Even a small tunnel through the gook lets them flow out to the sewer, leaving the gook behind.

In the past, the only way to remove this build-up was to rooter your pipes. An expensive, temporary measure.

Now, with just a few minutes each month, you can easily clean out your pipes... and KEEP them clean with Plumb Clean. Its totally unique formula clings, and penetrates deep into the gook. That is what allows it to liquefy even years of build-up. Plumb Clean will clean the entire length of your pipes. It will make your drains run like new, when used as directed. This penetrating action is so revolutionary, we stand behind Plumb Clean with a money-back guarantee!

Saves Money. A 1 lb. container of Plumb Clean holds up to 41 drain treatments. Even if drain openers could fix slow drains, it would take over 10 quart bottles to get the same number of treatments. Plumb Clean costs about 35¢ per treatment. We don't know of anything that cleans drains for less.

Safe Too. Conventional drain openers are dangerous chemicals. They can injure eyes on contact. They can release deadly vapors, in some situations. Some may damage your fixtures. Plumb Clean will not burn skin, or eyes. It will not release harmful fumes. When used as directed, it is 100% safe for people, and of course, all plumbing.

So, if your drains are giving you a SIGNAL, act now. Get safe, guaranteed Plumb Clean today!

Grade school districts eye ACHS for expansion need

by GLORIA DAVIS
Lakeland Newspapers

Now that the Antioch Community High School Board of Education has unanimously approved the building of a $32 million new high school and OK'd taking that question to the voters in April of 1991, concerns about what would be done with the present high school building are being addressed.

All during the Growth and Development Advisory Committee's study on the solutions to future space needs at ACHS, the two grade school districts, Antioch Dist.

34 and Lake Villa Dist. 41, have listened to proposals that the grade schools utilize the existing high school building to solve their future space needs.

the high school which will ultimately save the taxpayers additional construction costs to satisfy the growth needs of the grade school districts. Paying rent for Skidmore: All for renting ACHS --- Palombi: Interested, but other things to be considered.

Dist. 34 Supt. Don Skidmore says, "We agree with the idea of Dist. 34 leasing space in the present Antioch High School building to solve our space problems."

Dist. 34 is just a bit past student capacity at present with capacity set at 1,840 students and present enrollment at 1,857.

"It is estimated that the high school would take two to three years to be built. I think we can "scrunch" a bit until then, both internally and externally until space in the present ACHS building is available," says Skidmore.

"It makes better sense to cooperate with space at ACHS will cost much less than new construction would cost," he added.

Though he also sees merit in the Lake Villa School Dist. utilizing the high school to solve growth needs, Dr. Peter Palombi, superintendent of Lake Villa Dist. 41, says "We have expressed interest in using part of the high school, but this school district feeds into three different high schools. There are a lot of other questions to be answered. One of the problems to be considered is what we would do if we need the room desperately before the new high school is ready."

Rotary fetes AUGs teachers

Woman's Club to fete 70th anniversary Sept. 12

The Antioch Woman's Club will celebrate its 70th year at the opening luncheon of Sept. 12 at the Gurnee Holiday Inn.

Since this is also the 100th anniversary of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, Centennial Chairman Alvera Morgan, will present a brief program which will trace the history of both the local and national organizations.

Entertainment will be provided by the All-Star Variety Band of the Antioch AARP.

Club members will be faced with several changes this year. The opening month from its usual October date.

Only one meeting will be held each month instead of the traditional two. The first excursion will be a boat trip Sept. 26 on Lake Geneva.

The club's devotion to community service will continue. The main focus is now the scholarship program which has sent many Antioch high school students to summer camps at various colleges and universities, but the club participates in many other worthy projects.

Among them are Cancer Society fund-raising, monthly bingo parties at the North Chicago Veterans Hospital, and the January birthday party at Winchester House.

The members have been acting as hostesses for the Chamber of Commerce Santa's Castle.

Hartigan cites area gravel pit

Kanzler Concrete and Excavating, Inc., located at 516 Bald Knob Rd. near Pistakee Lake, is one of five Lake and McHenry County gravel pit operators that Ill. Atty. Gen. Neil Hartigan has filed lawsuits against for conducting mining activities without permits and for pollution violations.

Hartigan cites Stacey Kanzler, James J. Kanzler, Amcore Bank, National Assn. of Woodstock, as trustees, and William R.

Wehrs as beneficiary, for failing to obtain state mining construction and operating permits.

In all, the complaints against the five gravel pit operators allege a total of 20 violations of the Ill. Environmental Protection Act and Pollution Control Board regulations.

Hartigan commended the residents for "taking an avid interest in their communities and the welfare of their neighbors."

Camp Crayon teachers ready for exciting year

by LIZ SCHMEHL
(708)395-5380
Busy Days

It is almost time for Camp Crayon, an Antioch Park's Dept. program, to open its doors to three, four, and five-year olds as the new fall program is about to begin. Camp Crayon has added two afternoon sessions to this year's schedule on Tuesdays and Thursdays. Therefore, the four morning classes will be from 8:30 to 11:30 a.m. Miss Marie, Miss Liz, and Miss Chris are looking forward to an exciting new year with the new students and also with past students who are still enrolled in the program. They have been working on some interesting and fun ideas for the program and are counting the days until the doors open on Monday, Sept. 17 for the Monday-Wednesday classes and on Tuesday, Sept. 18 for the Tuesday-Thursday sessions. If you would like further information concerning the Camp Crayon program, contact Theresa Weber-Kovach of the parks department at (708)395-2160.

Productive Family

Harry and Sue Lengvenis's grown children are keeping them busy these days. On Aug. 4, their son, Richard, was married in a beautiful ceremony at St. Peter's Church. The evening reception, consisting of about 130 guests, was held at the Antioch Golf Club. Richard and his beautiful bride, Barbara, honeymooned close by and will be residing in the Antioch area. A short time after the big wedding day, their daughter, Susie Kalle, told them she was expecting her first baby. Naturally, Harry and Sue were overjoyed with her announcement. The new addition to the Lengvenis-Kalle family is expected sometime in April. Yes, Harry and Sue have cause to be happy—first one of their twin sons takes a bride and then their "baby" daughter announces her first pregnancy. Congratulations to you all and remember to give me a follow up call when the baby is born.

As I flitter about doing severely, who not contact me with your ideas of how to improve the column and make it more enjoyable to this and that, I am presented with the pleasant opportunity to meet and chat with some of the people who read and also enjoy "Hometown Goodies." As I talk with them they often give me words of encouragement and praises which prompt me to continue seeking tidbits to share with all of you. On the other hand, the almighty "grapevine" tells me there are also people out there who actually hate what this column is all about. I guess that is to be expected, after all you can't please everyone. Also everyone is entitled to their own opinion. However, I would like to pose one question to my unfavorable critic(s)—"Why do you read this?" If the column annoys you so much, skip over it and enjoy the many other interesting articles the paper has to offer. Remember life is too short to waste time doing things you do not enjoy. On the other hand, since you obviously read my ramblings in order to criticize my efforts so you, I just may respond in a positive way and you may find yourself enjoying "Hometown Goodies" after all. To me "Hometown Goodies" is all about having fun. Obviously your idea of fun and mine differ greatly. It appears to me that fun to you is complaining about trivial things, in this case a harmless column titled "Hometown Goodies!" Could I be right?

Valuable Smile

On that negative note I will share with your a beautiful reading I came across. There was no author listed and no indication of where it was taken from. However the message was beautiful and I decided to share it with all of you. "The value of a smile—it costs nothing but creates much. It enriches those that receive it without impoverishing those who give it. It happens in a flash and the memory of it sometimes last forever. None are so rich they can get along without it and none so poor but are richer from its benefits. It creates happiness in the home, fosters good will to business, and is a countersign of friends. It is rest to the weary, daylight to the discouraged, sunshine to the sad, and nature's best anecdote for trouble. Yet it cannot be bought, begged, borrowed or stolen for it has no earthly good until it is given away. If in the course of your day, some of your friends should be too tired to give you a smile, why don't you give them one of yours? For nobody needs a smile so much as those who have none left to give."

September Birthdays

September is one of my favorite months. Why you ask? Because the Lizard was born in the month of September and I'd like to wish me a happy Sept. 15 birthday. I would also like to wish all of the following people a very Happy September Birthday from the Lizard and readers: Cathy Harris, Sandy Webel, Nick Galdine, Irene Falcone, Lorraine Smiles, Phil Smerz, Jillian Cardis, Danny Jorudd, Sandy Frost, Wendy Charvat, Laura Edelman (my pal), Nick Falcone, Renee Vaughan, Christy Jones, David Castillo, David Izenstark, Jenny Harris, Howard Stann, Eileen Stann, Corry Hansen, Becky Clarke, Carrie Dunfrund, Neil Hansen, Marian Rhode, Mike Chinn, and Tara Christopholus.

The purpose of the luncheon was to familiarize the club presidents with the programs and projects in various departments of work. The Tenth Dist. chairmen in the Arts, Conservation, Education, Health, Home Life, International Affairs and Public Affairs were introduced and materials were given to each club in the dist.

nity with members volunteering their time whenever there is a need.

New school with 16 classrooms at a total cost of $2.5 million.

In addition, a new maintenance area would have to be built and 25 additional acres of land in close proximity of the high school would be needed at an additional land purchase cost.

The utilization of other areas of the school such as relocating the bus garage, relocating the driver's education building, relocating the tennis courts, etc. were also considered.

According to Allen, a ballpark estimation of expected student growth at ACHS inside of the next five years would see an increase from the present enrollment of 1,700 students to 1,900.

Board overrides Wilton's veto on cop appointments, schedule

by GLORIA DAVIS
Lakeland Newspapers

The loud in-fighting among the members of the Antioch Village Board, that has its roots in the Police Chief Charles Miller controversy, was toned down to a few verbal swipes this week.

Mayor Robert Wilton's veto of the restructuring and rescheduling of the police department was overridden by a trustee vote of 4 to 1, with Trustee Ed Kosiorowski dissenting. Trustee Larry Hansen was absent from the board meeting.

Village Atty. Ken Clark told the board that he felt that the mayor could not veto a board vote unless it had to do with appropriations or village liability. He used a case that arose in the City of Chicago when Mayor Harold Washington and the city council were at war as a precedent.

Kosiorowski repeated his disagreement with the police department scheduling, saying that the department was understaffed for the third shift and adding that it is sometimes more understaffed when an officer has to go on dispatch.

"I've been there when there is just one officer in the office and another out on the street," he said.

Trustee Don Amundsen argued that "it is a blatant lie" that there has been any manpower change in the scheduling of the police department, adding that the number of men on each shift remains as it was.

Kosiorowski and Wilton pointed out that three officers had been switched from the second to the first shift and were replaced by only two officers.

Amundsen later reiterated that another officer had been switched for the third policeman, adding that the number of men on the first and second shift remain the same.

Trustee Marilyn Shineflug got into the low-keyed foray by saying Kosiorowski was talking apples and oranges, adding that the original motion that was vetoed by Wilton was concentrated on the appointment of Lt. Charles Watkins to administrative lieutenant.

Pat Broecker, wife of Officer George Broecker, and four other wives of Antioch policemen, appeared at the meeting to back the majority of the board's vote on the rescheduling.

After the meeting, Amundsen said "The police department should be run like all the other village departments with the head of the department running it under the administrator and overseen by the board and the mayor."

In other business, the board discussed the leaf burning law. Kosiorowski suggested that leaf burning be allowed on certain days of the week. The rest of the board seemed to feel that leaf pick-up was available in the village at reasonable prices so burning was not necessary.

Deborah Mozal and Joanne Weber were hired as part-time teachers at the Parks Dept.'s Camp Crayola, at a salary of $4 per hour.

John Boldt of McClure Engineering made a recommendation for the storm sewer work on Cedarwood Dr., reported on a stop and go light for Orchard St. and also told the board that a bid from Diemer Plumbing for $57,000 for doing the work on the water booster station and sanitary sewer replacement on Maplewood Dr. was the only one received. He added that he had figured the cost at about $58,000.

It was announced that at 7 p.m. on Sept. 19, there will be a presentation at the Antioch Senior Center by the drug task force that will feature Ron Kay and Lake County Coroner Barbara Richardson.

Other meetings on the village's agenda include an environmental committee meeting on Sept. 12 and planning commission meeting on Sept. 13.

Retail sales tax take not dependent on residents

by GLORIA DAVIS
Lakeland Newspapers

A recent report from the State of Illinois on retail sales taxes being collected by local municipalities shows that an area's population does not necessarily dictate the amount of commercial business done in that same area and the retail sales tax realized from these sales.

For example, Antioch has an unofficial population of just over 6,000 people.

In 1989, 1,020 businesses turned in retail sales tax to the Antioch Village Hall. That sales tax amounted to just over $4 million with over half of those taxes coming from automotive sales and service stations.

Besides four main car dealers, there are several used car dealers in Antioch. There are also approximately 10 service stations, either within the village limits or nearby.

Lindenhurst has a new unofficial population of 7,996, up from the 1980 census of 7,280.

Last year, Lindenhurst collected $530,000 in retail sales tax from 45 businesses with almost two-thirds of those taxes coming from the sale of food and sales in eating and drinking establishments.

In 1989, the Village of Lake Villa, having lost a few residents, with the 1990 unofficial census results going down to 2,609 from 2,752, took in over $1,200,000 in retail sales tax from 57 businesses. The bulk of those taxes were realized from the sale of cars, service station receipts and lumber, building and hardware supplies.

Lake Villa has a car dealer and a large building supply company.

Letter to the Editor

Majority response

Editor:
At last the members of "The Silent Majority That Support Mayor Wilton" have put into writing their long list of unsubstantiated speculations and rumors implying "guilt by association" which have been circulated in the community for some time.

I ask, when will you find the courage to sign your names? What is the source of your hatred? Why haven't you taken the opportunity to document your complaints with names, dates and places and bring them forward in an appropriate public forum?

It appears you have chosen the cowardly, anonymous route because you don't have the facts to back up your charges. (Yes, folks, we're hearing the same charges against Chief Miller even though the State Attorney's Office has closed its case finding no basis for action.)

Do you think you further your objectives, whatever they are, by maliciously slandering others? Your actions discredit our entire community and drain time and energy that could be much better spent on other village business.

Regarding my employment situation, Mayor Wilton appointed me as chairman of the village board committee known as "permits, planning and zoning," with full knowledge I have worked in Mr. Little's Allstate office in an insurance capacity since 1985.

My employment location was known to voters when they elected me by a large plurality in April, 1989. I do not have and never have had any financial connection with anyone's development business—a fact which can be easily verified.

I feel my record of independence and fairness stands on its own merits, and that the comments about Pine Hill's permits are inaccurate to the point of being silly. Plan approval for planned unit developments and subdivisions is given by the entire board only after thorough review by the planning commission and/or zoning board.

I cannot grant or deny building permits and neither can Mayor Wilton. Permits are granted or denied by the entire board. On May 21, the board did vote to withhold Pine Hill's permits and has not yet changed that decision.

If Mayor Wilton's supporters "check into" the facts, they will find he voted in favor of the plans for both Phases I and II before my election to the board.

What follows is a record of his votes:

March 3, 1986, "yes" for Ordinance No. 86-3-7, Pine Hill's Preliminary Plan; Oct. 26, 1987, "yes" for agreement to build model homes; Feb. 15, 1988, "yes" for approval of Phase

I master plan; April 18, 1988, "yes" for Phase II final plan, ordinance No. 88-4-11; July 18, 1988, "yes" to sign IEPA permits for Phase II; Oct. 3, 1988, "yes" to sign plat for Phase II; July 3, 1989, did not veto final plan, Phase III, ordinance No. 89-7-25.

Are Mayor Wilton and some of his supporters now using my job and the difficulties at Pine Hills to publicly discredit me by smearing my reputation because I have found their "reasons" for removing Chief Miller from office to be insufficient? I have faith that most members of the community will see this attempt at character assassination for what it really is.

*Sad story of venerable institutionWhat caused demise of Libertyville thrift?

6 In March 1989 Libertyville Federal was literally swimming in red ink. Repossessions were $15 million, net worth was a negative $11.8 million—way down from $8.4 million only four years before—and net income was $2.2 million in the red. Still, directors paid themselves $23,000 for meeting that quarter with a modest $5,000 in expenses. 9

by JOSEPH SOULAK
Lakeland Newspapers

Libertyville Federal Savings and Loan Assn. was once among the strongest and highly respected institutions of its type in the nation. In the midwest it was the best.

In Lake County thousands of depositors entrusted their accounts, big and small, to the people behind the seemingly invincible two-story Romanesque style headquarters with gold-leaf gilded windows in downtown Libertyville. Hundreds of others placed mortgages with the institution that would have been 64 years old this year.

But it died in 1989, another victim of the savings and loan scandal now rocking the nation. The loss will cost taxpayers more than $25 million.

Was the thrift the victim of bad investments with its $8.3 million in repossessed real estate, mostly in Texas and Colorado?

Was it mismanagement with directors and officers paying themselves handsome salaries and bonuses while the bankrupt thrift grew sicker?

Were people like board of directors chairman Frank T. Murphy and board member Gustav Danielson so immune to the problems they moved to West End, N.C., population 700, to now play golf daily and forget Libertyville entirely?

Was former Vice Chairman George Francis, an arch conservative with two offices in the downtown Libertyville edifice, so busy with his naval reserve duties and interest in the John Birch Society he did not see what was happening? Did it callous him to the point of divorcing his wife of more than 25 years, remarrying and moving to California?

Today Libertyville Federal is called Harris Bank. It was taken over in April 1989 by the Canadian-based financial giant. Sporting the Harris lion are the main office at 354 N. Milwaukee Ave. and a branch office at 4946 Grand Ave. in Gurnee. An office for placing mortgages in Cook and DuPage counties at the plush Hamilton Lakes complex in Itasca was closed in 1989 by the feds, less than two years after it opened.

Back in 1984 and the years before, people had confidence in Libertyville Federal. Actual depositors are estimated at between 7,000 and 8,000, even during the worst years.

At yearend 1984 the institution had deposits of $110 million, $39 million more than the year before. Assets were $125 million, an increase of $27 million from 1983. Net worth was a healthy $7,666,000 and net income was $1,655,000, the last year for such a glowing profit.

Repossessed real estate loans amounted to an acceptable $226,000.

Employee salaries were stable. The six directors paid themselves a modest $13,000 quarterly or $52,000 for the year. Travel and expenses for directors that year were $60,000. Directors usually meet monthly.

But there were warning signs. What are called development loans on the bank's statement amounted to $55 million for 1984. This is money invested out of state. Bank officers, beginning with President Walter Tyszko, were questioned about these investments.

"Your apparent reasons for requesting those materials are improper and the association believes it would be contrary to its best interests to turn any of them over to you," one depositor was told in a letter from the thrift's legal firm in Chicago.

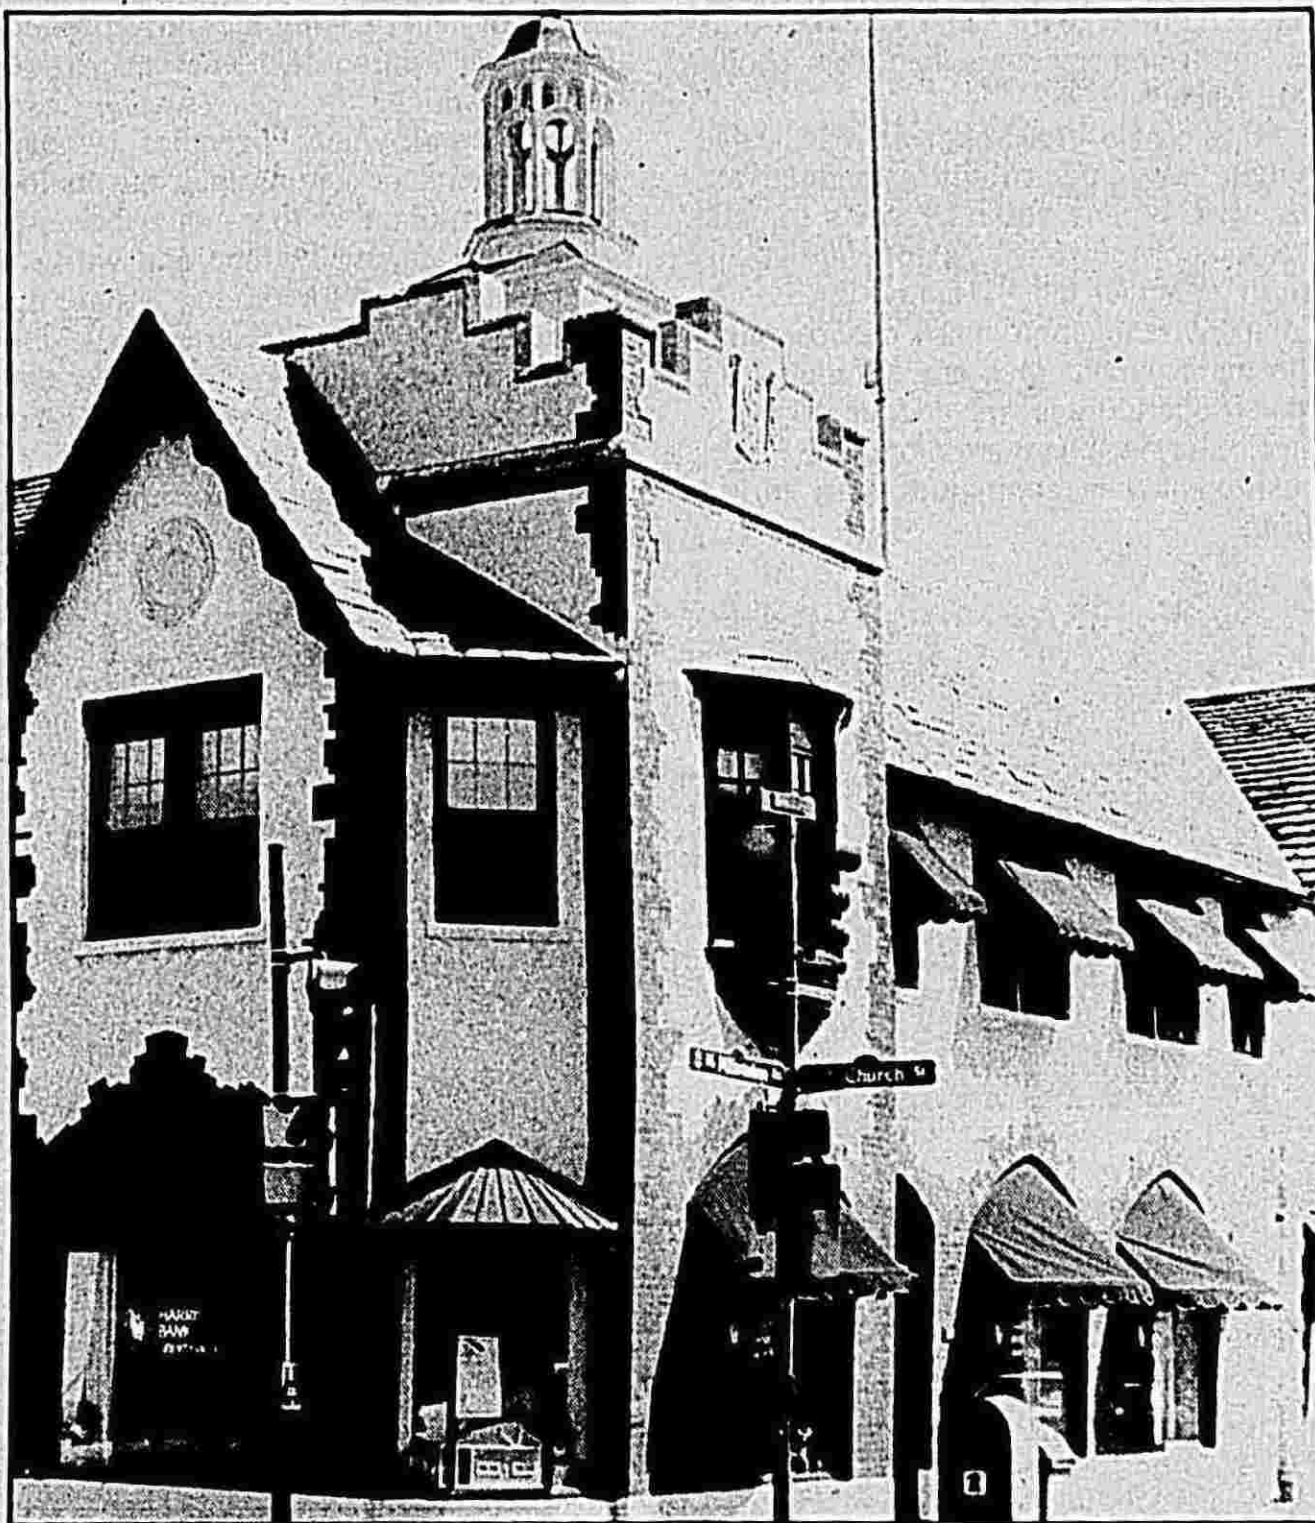

The year 1985 was the watershed one

* Danielson, who lived in Schaumburg at the time and now operates Small World Travel from his home in West End, N.C., where he is retired.

* Murphy, whose only job was at Libertyville Federal for 25 years, now 54 and retired in West End, N.C.

* Joseph Lederhaas of Gifford, Conn., who operates an environmental business.

* William Kordick of Wilmette, a well-known Chicago banker.

Where it all started and ended

Venerable institution at 354 N. Milwaukee Ave., Libertyville, is the former Libertyville Federal Savings and Loan Assn., now the Harris Bank-Libertyville. The Canadian-based bank took over the troubled savings and loan when it got caught up in the nationwide fiasco surrounding the thrift industry. In Libertyville's case, its 1989 demise was blamed on poor investments in Texas and Colorado. But there could be more to it than that, according to the accompanying story. The institution would have been 64 years old this year.

for Libertyville Federal. That was the year Tyszko became president and chief executive officer. He was hired initially in 1981 as executive vice president and treasurer. Two years prior to that he was senior operations officer with Twin City Federal Savings and Loan in Minneapolis, a multi-billion institution. Tyszko was terminated on Dec. 31, 1979, and has not listed job history until joining Libertyville.

Real estate repossessions in 1985 climbed to almost $8 million as unidentified investments in Colorado and Texas soured. Deposits held at $110 million—almost identical to 1984 and assets of $127 million were up $2 million from the year before. Net worth was a seemingly healthy $8.4 million, the highest in Libertyville Federal's history. This is because the thrift had not yet written off its bad loans, hoping they could be salvaged.

Despite the thrift being in a holding pattern, salaries that year jumped $500,000 to almost $2 million, directors bumped their pay from $13,000 to $19,000 per quarter for a year's total $59,000 and authorized expenses of $20,000 quarterly or $67,000 for the year. Much of the travel and expense money was for lodging at the plush Hamilton Lakes complex in Itasca close to Libertyville Federal's out-of-county office.

There was only one local director in 1986, C. Russell Proctor, a retired florist. Other directors were:

* John Langun of Elgin, an economist with offices in Chicago.

Also serving on the board was Tyszko, the bank president.

In 1987 the Federal Home Loan Bank board saw Libertyville Federal needed help. It asked a seventh member be appointed to the board. Bank consultant Hal C. Schmidt of Wheaton, who did work at Libertyville Federal in 1986, was asked to serve.

Things went from bad to worse in 1986. Real estate defaults dropped $2 million, but were still an atrocious $5.2 million, deposits held at the same $110 million level of the past two years and assets were $122 million, a slight drop of $5 million from the year before.

The bad news is that net worth fell to $3.2 million—a decline of $5 million in one year—and net income was a minus $3,779. The handwriting was one the wall.

Despite this, the six directors paid themselves salaries and bonuses of $19,000 quarterly or $76,000 for the year and doubled their expense account by year end from $18,000 per quarter to $36,000 for a year's total of $84,000.

The bottom fell out in 1987. Real estate possessions were a whopping $7.8 million, net worth dropped to a dismal $181,000 and net income was now a negative $3.3 million.

Directors continued paying themselves hefty fees and bonuses of $79,000 per year and wrote off another $77,000 for travel, lodging and entertainment.

If 1987 was a tragedy, 1988 was a disaster. Real estate possessions rose to $12.3 million, net worth fell to a minus $9 million and net income was a dismal negative $4,870. Still, the directors got paid—$90,000—or $11,000 more than the year before. But they spent $30,000 less for travel, entertainment and lodging.

By this time the thrift was frantically searching for a financial partner. It was listed by the office of Federal Thrift Resolution and Trust as having the fifth worst balance sheet of all troubled thrifts in a 15-state midwest area.

Those in the industry knew how sick it was. Depositors and those who had their home mortgages with Libertyville Federal maintained their confidence in the people behind the brown Victorian building in downtown Libertyville.

Depositors became anxious when the thrift's true plight became known. The affable Tyszko reassured them their money was insured by the federal government.

He blamed problem loans in Colorado and Texas made during the early 1980s oil crunch. In 1983 and 1984, when the oil economy crumbled, it had a domino effect on many savings and loans like Libertyville Federal. Tyszko consistently refused to identify the investments, their location or whether he or any other thrift officer ever saw them in person.

To spread the blame a little further, Tyszko said government deregulation in 1981 and 1982 allowed thrifts to pay what ever they wished on savings accounts. He said Libertyville Federal raised rates to be competitive with other markets, which attracted and retained deposits.

"There is no incidence of fraud and there were no under-the-table payments made to anyone," Tyszko told a reporter in February 1989. That was when he and other officers still had hopes of converting the association's charter, issuing new stock and converting to a new, healthy savings and loan. No one showed interest in the idea.

In March 1989 Libertyville Federal was literally swimming in red ink. Repossessions were $15 million, net worth was a negative $11.8 million—way down from $8.4 million only four years before—and net income was $2.2 million in the red. Still, directors paid themselves $23,000 for meeting that quarter with a modest $5,000 in expenses.

The Resolution Trust took over Libertyville Federal in April and sold it to Harris Bank one year later after assessing the damage. Details of that complicated buyout in which taxpayers will be stuck with the bulk of the bailout bill remain secret.

Its business as usual under a new name at 354 N. Milwaukee Ave. in a building designed as the local Public Service Co. office of the late Samuel Insul, the utilities magnate who also owned the Model Farm in Mundelein where electricity on the farm was displayed for visitors. The Libertyville Federal building was restored to its original 1928 appearance inside and out at a cost of $2 million in the early 1980s when the institution had money to spend. It is listed in the National Registry of Historic Places.

Info for this story

Information for this story was researched by Timothy Anderson of Libertyville, a second generation Libertyville family and owner of NaCon Co., the second oldest bank operations consulting firm in the midwest. Anderson was a depositor and member of Libertyville Federal until officials discontinued his membership in 1987 following a series of unanswered inquiries he made about the financial health and investments of the thrift.

Corporate Dumpsters filling up!

by gloria

Editor's Note: This is the final part of series "Corporate Dumpsters Filling-Up" dealing with problems of mature workers reentering job field after corporate lay-offs.

Although very few employers are ignorant enough to use a person's age as a job disqualifier, since they would be accused of breaking the law and discriminating against people because of their age, the fact that 3.2 percent of the total work force between the ages of 45 and 64 were unemployed in 1989 speaks for itself, especially when compared to the total national unemployment percentage of 5.2 percent during that same period.

According to Dorothy Miasco of Operation ABLE (Alert Based On Long Experience), it is three times harder for people in this age bracket to get another job, after losing one through no fault of their own, than it is for younger unemployed people.

According to facts from the Bureau of Labor Statistics, last year, the total work force from 45 to 54 years old added up to over 19 million people. Of that work force, 637,000 were unemployed. Four million were out of the work force for various reasons besides losing jobs.

From the same bureau comes the numbers telling that there are 11.5 million people in the work force made up of people 55 to 64 years of age. Statistics show that over 379,000 of those workers were not working in 1989. Nine million or most of those people were out of work for various other reasons.

"If workers in those age groups do regain employment, it is frequently for a lesser salary, especially in the professional and management market," says Miasco.

One of the reasons given for an employer's hesitancy in hiring a "mature" worker, despite the rave notices on their resume, has been an alleged rise in cost in company insurance when employees are over 45 years old.

Miasco dismisses this as a legitimate reason. "We find males in their 30s that have families will usually make more health insurance claims than older people will," she says.

Miasco also gives another reason that people in upper middle management, whose company suffers layoffs for one reason or another, have a difficult time in getting another job: "Usually, in cases of company renovation, many of those middle management jobs are eliminated to lower operating costs and enlarge the profit margin. There are more entry level positions when companies start hiring again."

Where do the unemployed look for a job? It is a proven fact that less than 25 percent of better paying jobs advertised in the want ad section of the newspaper are worth answering.

Many employment agencies, whose profit depends on getting their clients lucrative jobs, find they lose money because of the vast amount of time and work it takes to find jobs for the age groups in question, so they are not interested.

But there are groups spread all over the United States that have recognized this problem and are working among themselves and with the mature unemployed to better their lot.

Despite proof of their talents found in their resumes, it is three times harder for those between the ages of 45 and 64 to get a job, than it is for younger workers of less experience.

The Gray Panthers in Philadelphia, Penn., have 70,000 members who are helping to fight "ageism."

According to Sue Leary, staff member, the Panthers have now just begun discussions on the problems of which we speak and are delving into them, searching for a viable solution.

The Ill. Dept. of Aging, the American Assn. of Retired Persons, (AARP), and ABLE, are a few groups that are trying to solve this problem.

Miasco says, "We primarily deal with people over 50 years old through job seminars, job clubs and many programs geared to getting another job."

ABLE has a hot line to serve those mature unemployed that want and need their help, (312)782-7700.

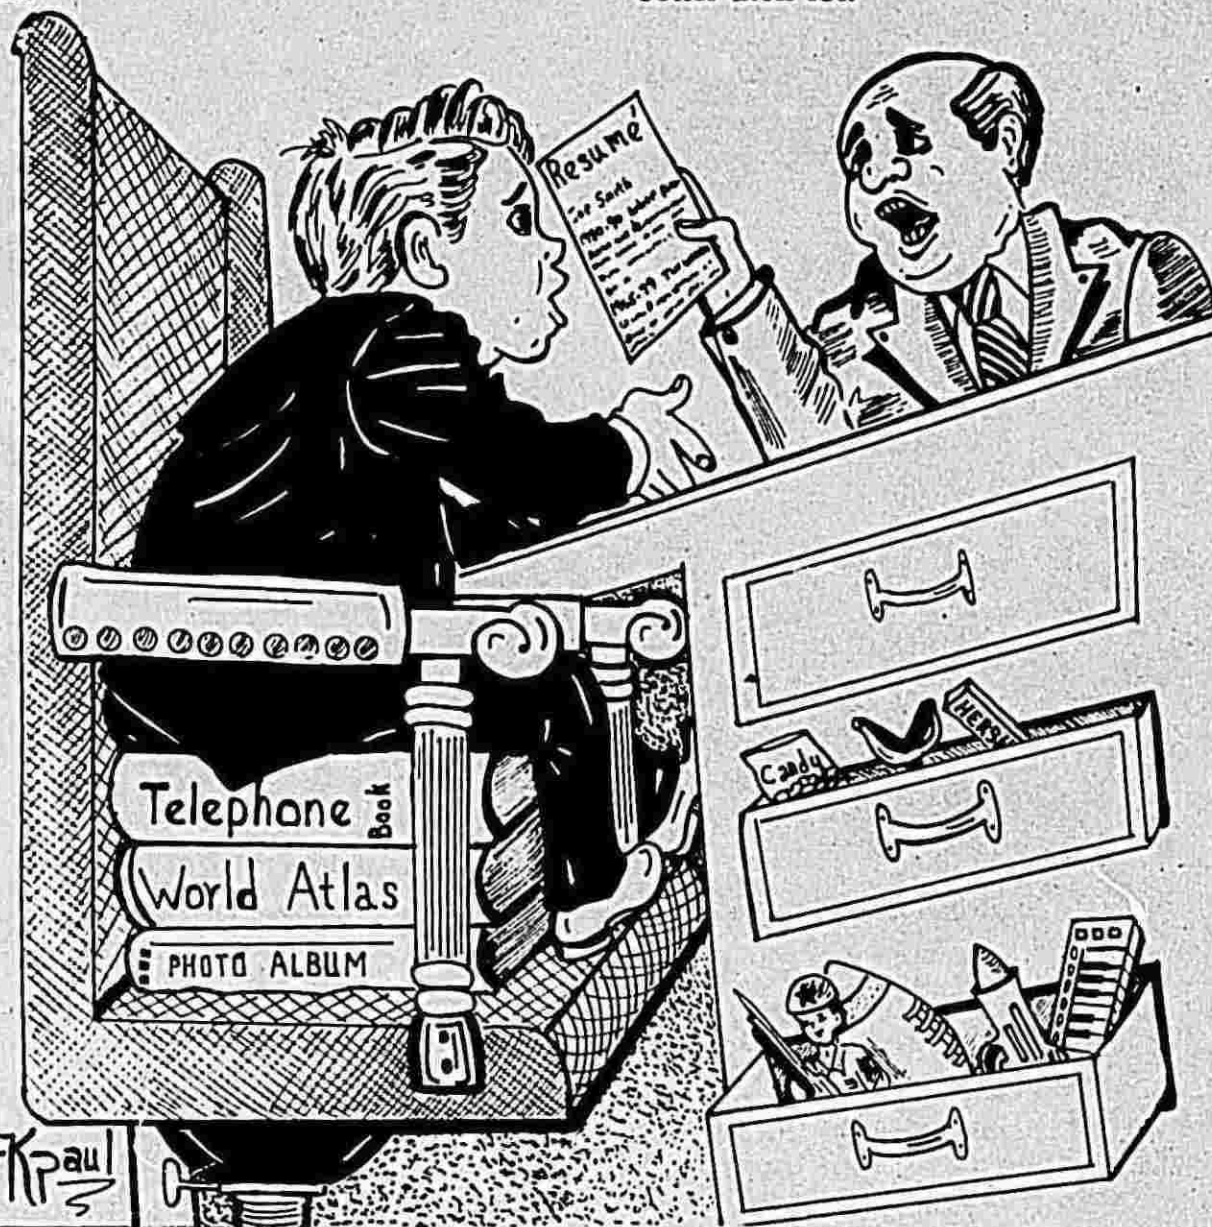

"We work with more than 40 other agencies, not only on special programs on the unemployed aged subject, but we also supply direct services for those who need it."

A certain business chain had been owned and run by the same gentleman that founded it 30 years ago. It was known as a good place to work, so even though this particular industry is known for its turnovers, this company had a large number of employees that had been with the company from its inception or else in on its infancy.

When the owner decided his 80 years of age meant it was time to divest himself of the company at a profit of billions of dollars, everything changed.

It is difficult to understand why a company that is running well enough to be

County check nixes petitions against lakes service dist.

by GLORIA DAVIS
Lakeland Newspapers

The Lake County administrator's check on the signatures on the petitions filed against the establishment of a Special Service Dist. 8 for the cleanup of the Loon Lakes area has been finished.

The county administrator's office has found that only 44 percent of the signatures of area property owners on petitions against the establishment of the special service district are valid.

Even though the same five-month check by several county agencies showed that there were well over 51 percent of the needed signatures of registered voters on the petitions, this means that because the petitions did not also contain signatures of 51 percent of the area property owners, the petitions may be nullified.

The Lake County Board proposed last December to establish a Special Service Dist. 8 in the Loon Lakes area which would entail the county establishing a special taxing body.

In March, petitions against the service district were filed. According to law, the petitions would only stop the service district if they contained signatures of 51 percent of the registered voters and 51 percent of the property owners in the area designated previously by the county.

According to Max Cohen of the county administrator's office, a five-month check on the signatures on the petitions requiring 51 percent of the property owners in the area found only 44 percent of those signatures to be valid.

The previous check for signatures of 51 percent of the registered voters in the area was OK.

This means that the states attorney's office must accept the findings according to state statute.

Then the county board will act on the findings of the states attorneys office. The county board is expected then to act on an ordinance passed last year and vote on whether or not to establish the service dist.

Members of the lakes management group maintain that despite the number of signatures on these petitions against the service district's establishment, the majority of the people living around Loon Lakes are for the service district.

If the district is established other county lakes might follow.

Headaches aplenty

Even as the Lake County Stormwater Management Committee was embroiled in controversy over appointment of a director, the new agency faces a tenuous future due to philosophic differences being expressed by village officials throughout the county.

The Village of Fox Lake, for one, is casting a wary eye at the committee in wonderment over how much control the agency will have over municipalities. Up until now, solving stormwater problems within their own boundaries has been up to the villages. Fox Lake Trustee John Erdman, assigned as liaison with the committee, could well be expressing a general opinion when he reported to fellow trustees that he is "uneasy about relations between the county and villages" due to wrangling between County Board members and the committee that not enough authority is being given to the Health Dept. relating to monitoring. Relations are degenerating between the County Board and the agency, which is a creature of county government, to "more politics than usual" in the opinion of Erdman.

The way it should be

How far society has come in race relations and assimilation of minorities into the political fabric of society is illustrated by the contest for Illinois attorney general in the November election. The individual achievements and attributes of the combatants makes the contest most decidedly not a black and white issue. The race pits a Republican who has gold plated credentials as a prosecutor against a Democrat with three terms in state office and is one of the best known political figures in the state. It is a happenstance that one candidate is black and one is white.

The Republican, Jim Ryan, white, 43, and two-term DuPage County State's attorney, insists that race is not an issue. The Democrat, Roland Burris, black, 52, currently Illinois comptroller, aspires to continue his career with public life by winning election as the state's top legal officer.

Ryan touches on the race issue with sincere reluctance. The handsome young prosecutor prefers to talk about legal experience which he possesses in abundance. The popular Burris is the first black to win statewide constitutional office in Illinois.

In his insistence that race is not an issue, Ryan is saying the same thing that Burris said when he first ran for statewide office. That is, perhaps, one of the most interesting aspects of the Burris-Ryan race which experts are calling eyelash close. Times change. Ryan is correct today just as Burris was correct 12 years ago. That is the way it should be.

Recycling thought

Members of the Fox Lake Economic Development Commission might have been premature in voting thumbs down on plans of a local recycler to expand and relocate his business. The rejection basically was for cosmetic reasons and some rather flimsy procedural differences among commission members.

Although the plans officially aren't dead because the commission is an advisory body and the village council has the final sayso, we think any community fortunate to have a local recycling business should think twice before throwing up a roadblock to private enterprise. A number of communities have gone to great lengths to establish government-sponsored recycling operations. Typically, it is a struggle to keep them going simply because the zeal and dedication of the entrepreneur is missing. Private enterprise always wins out when matched against government, even at the village level.

Recycling not only is patriotic, it also is the law when it comes to reducing the waste stream headed toward landfills whose capacity is being depleted rapidly. There is money to be made in recycling. There is nothing wrong with a local business reaping the rewards for a service we all need.

Viewpoint

Crane hears, but do other officials heed?

by BILL SCHROEDER

As a high ranking member of the House Ways and Means Committee, Congressman Philip M. Crane(R-Ill.) takes a dim view of the way the U.S. writes its tax laws.

The tax writers are so desperate for revenue, "they're trying to get blood from a turnip," is the way Crane described the process to a group of advertising executives at a meeting in Chicago. Crane said he is worried about the future because politicians and staff personnel who advise the elected representatives are "flirting with dangerous forms of taxation."

Too bad Crane isn't at the helm of Ways and Means. An economist and history professor before elected to Congress, Crane talks sense about the economy because he knows his history. The Boston Tea Party was a tax revolt, not the uprising of a band of thugs. It could happen again, Crane warns.

Even though the business types thought Americans would "buy" an across-the-board tax designed to reduce the deficit, Crane cautioned that now is no time to hit business again with the general economy being in a fragile state.

Crane pointed out that taxes are at historic high levels now, even higher than when Americans were footing the bill to fight World War II. The affable Congressional veteran chuckled when talking about the focus in Washington put on spending reductions. "Our reductions are for one year. Taxes go on forever." Reducing spending, though, is the only way to go in Crane's opinion.

Representing a district covering west and south Lake County, part of McHenry County and northwest Cook County suburbs, said he heard the word from voters during parades this summer and other public appearances. "No new taxes," Crane hears this word. But how many other politicians hear the cry, including the ones right in our own village hall?

JOKER--Fox Lake Trustee Kenneth Hamsher, angry that Metra plans to reduce service by dead-heading commuter trains from Fox Lake to Libertyville, quipped that Metra ought to have Libertyville residents board the train at Fox Lake and then skip the Libertyville stop. Come again, Ken? This whole thing is getting confusing.

GETTING NEAR--Dr. John "Jack" Ring is only one step away from one of the most prestigious positions in medicine. As president-elect, he has a year to understudy the president of the American Medical Assn. The Mundelein physician is a living example of what the practice of medicine is all about: service. He's a family doctor who still makes house calls. Congratulations.

MIXED VIEWS--Take it from Jim Burns, Democratic candidate for lieutenant governor, having a background in sports opens doors, but it often diverts attention from issues. Burn, who held the school scoring record at Northwestern in basketball for a number of years, is an able running mate for Neil Hartigan, candidate for governor. He knows the problems facing Illinois and he has some ready solutions.

A Chicago lawyer who resides in Evanston, Burn lists the top problems facing Illinois(not in order) as taxes, funding education, drug and substance abuse law enforcement, economic development and environmental protection. Not a bad list.

During a stop at the Lakeland Newspaper editorial offices, Burn talked politics, but he also talked basketball, recalling the days when the Wildcats played tough in the Big Ten and how downstate Illinois, his home territory, still lives, eats and breathes basketball--even when political races are on the line.

The Downstaters, though, have an adroit way of mixing basketball and politics. Burns expects to be on the floor for Hoops for Hartigan Sept. 15 in Pulaski County, "for at least a few minutes."

Abuse from Zoning Board

Editor:
I came before the Lake County Zoning Board of Appeals with high hopes and expectations. High hopes since I had invested most of my money to meet, without exception, county code and ordinance requirements for a conditional use permit to build my family's dream home on the shores of Red Head Lake. High expectations since I felt I was appearing before a fair and impartial body specifically charged to evaluate the technical merits of my application and submit an unbiased and impersonal recommendation to the County Board.

At great expense and personal sacrifice, I retained a reputable professional engineer highly qualified and experienced in these matters to prepare and submit my request. This resulted in statements from the Lake County Planning, Zoning & Environmental Quality Department and the Building and Zoning Department that all necessary requirements were met and they recommended unequivocal approval. All concerns expressed by the Lake County Health Department and the Lake County Soil & Water Conservation District were specifically addressed, although these agencies as a matter of policy recommended denial without reason.

Mrs. Gloria N. Helke, a member of the Zoning Board of Appeals, chose to ignore the extensive documented evidence and sworn public testimony presented expressly for her benefit. She chose to formulate and state her "personal opinion" that building in the flood plain is wrong even though no building in the flood plain is proposed. She chose to move for (Continued on next page)

PARTY CRASHER—Atheist Robert Sherman of Buffalo Grove is using his press card to get him where his anti-Christ crusade makes him unwelcome. Sherman claims to be the Midwest Bureau correspondent for the Atheist Press.

He'll be covering Monday's 21st annual Zion Mayor's Prayer Breakfast at the Midlane Country Club. Guest speaker will be William Murray, a born again Christian, son of American Atheist Chairman Madalyn Murray O'Hair. Murray's daughter is editor of the American Atheist, the national publication of the American Atheist movement.

Prior to covering this event Sherman was spotted at an occasional Republican function.

SENATORIAL STAND-IN—

Hitting the campaign trail for her husband, Paul, is Jeanne Simon, wife of the U.S. senator for Illinois. She will be in Lake County next Thursday promoting the Democratic ticket at functions and on media visits to newspapers and radio stations.

The former Jeanne Hurley and Simon met in the Illinois Assembly where she was from Wilmette and he from downstate.

LOOKING TO NOVEMBER—

Illinois Democrats and those in Lake County, in particular, are elated with polls showing their ticket gaining momentum headed toward the November election.

Democrat gubernatorial candidate Neil Hartigan is counting on Republican Jim Edgar to have a tough two months ahead in his battle to move into the governor's mansion. The Edgar people say Hartigan has given the campaign his best shot and won't improve his popularity much more.

But the Democratic strategists point out several things. Off-presidential year elections tend to favor the Democrats. Second, the vote increases in heavily Democratic Chicago and Cook County in off-election years.

In collar counties like Lake, Hartigan said he has increased his plurality in each of the last two elections his name has been on the ballot. That thinking means Edgar will have to win big downstate, which he calls home.

QUAYLE HUNTING—

Political humorist Mark Russell, who never seems to run out of quips about Vice President Dan Quayle, has another. He says:

"Guess who goes if the Indiana National Guard is called to Saudi Arabia?"

FRIEND OF BUSINESS—

Another honor has been accorded state Sen. Jack Schaffer (R-Crystal Lake) of the 32nd Dist. It is an 89 percent rating by the National Federation of Independent Business (NFIB) for his voting record on issues affecting small businesses.

Ten key business issues in the last two legislative sessions were used in the rating. A key one was the way legislators voted on the temporary state income tax increase, which the NFIB opposed. Another was the "no frills" insurance bill that allows businesses with 25 or fewer employees to remove state-mandated coverages from health insurance coverage.

ILLEGAL FISH—Residents of the Loch Lomond area of Mundelein are singing the praises of weed-eating fish imported this summer to clean up their lake.

In Wisconsin they jail the sellers because the fish are illegal. Just last month two Arkansas fish farmers were arrested and now face up to 10 years in prison and $500,000 for selling the weed-eating carp to nine Wisconsin country clubs and some individuals.

Those who purchased the fish had to pay a $98 forfeiture fee and drain their ponds, among other eradication efforts.

Yes, the fish eat weeds, as the sellers promise. But they also prey on other game fish, which the sellers don't tell about.

a denial of the permit based on her "discomfort." Unfortunately for me two members of the board voted with her, two against and two "passed."

She could have chosen to move for approval with conditions of stipulations on those items she did not understand to guarantee compliance with county requirements. Or she could have afforded us the time and opportunity to correct her conceived specific wrongs and clarify our intentions. This would have been eminently fair and reasonable, even in light of our already herculean efforts to address all parties and all concerns. But these she chose not to do.

So now we are committed without recourse to the mercy of a County Board not privy to the hours and days of explanations of horribly complex issues.

The disservice she has rendered to the citizens of Lake County, the public affront she has assigned to the professionalism and integrity of my engineer, and the personal injustice she has committed to me and my family are unconscionable, insufferable and inexcusable. We all deserve better.

Administrative pay excessive

Editor:

Here we go again, a bond issue to build a school in Island Lake. Correct me if I'm wrong, but Lake County pays the highest property tax per capita, over $100 for every man woman and child in the county. In the next year we will see the second phase of the tax increase passed two years ago, our fire district just doubled their tax rate, the library raised theirs and reassessment will just add to this list.

Well for one, I'm tired. I don't care to be number one in payment of taxes (at least until my kids can come up with their share which at present should be just under $1,500 per year).

Secondly, I don't appreciate the fact that the Wauconda School District has more than the state average of administrators; with above average compensation packages.

I helped vote in some new members who promised to hold the concern of the taxpayer at heart. Never did I realize that a few favors here and there would sway them to the "old style, here we go again, politics."

I think it's time to look into the option of hiring an administrator who isn't so comfortable and cozy with the school board and has to be kept on his toes in his responsiveness and needs to the children as well as the community.

Dear Action Line,

My dog died recently. It was a fine pedigree dog that we were very proud of. I have always had pedigree, well bred dogs and am a dog lover. Now however, I am senior citizen on a fixed income and can't afford a high quality animal. I know I can get a regular dog through the County but I would like a "collectors item" hound. I can afford to pay a little, but not the hundreds good dogs bring. Any ideas?

Dog Fancier

Dear Dog Fancier,

How about a real racing greyhound? The new Geneva Lakes Kennel Club has dogs available through their adoption program. You can get a two to four year old greyhound who has recently retired from the racing business for only $75. They say greyhounds are great pets and fine watchdogs. If interested you can call them at 1(800)477-4552.

Film Review

This has been the season of successful "sleepers" in the film industry.

With predicted blockbusters like "Dick Tracy," "Die Hard 2: Die Harder," "Back to the Future III," and Tom Cruise's "Thunder Bay," expected to smash boxoffice records, the biggest moneymaker of the year turns out to be Richard Gere's "Pretty Woman," and Patrick Swayze's "Ghost" was the megabuck draw of the summer season.

All this is especially surprising because these two stars were almost considered has-beens since their last few flicks had been big money losers.

Another sleeper that's making the cash registers jingle is "Darkman" starring comparative unknown Liam Neeson who plays a disfigured scientist who is searching for the people responsible for his pain and anguish.

Looking a little like a wounded Zoro with his big hat and cape, this "comic book" hero captures the same empathetic and romantic aura as "Phantom of the Opera," and tv's "Beauty and the Beast."

There's a lot of violence in this one and some fantastic special effects with helicopters and skyscrapers and flying bullets galore, but somehow one doesn't take the whole thing more seriously than they do "Opera" and "Beast," making it more enjoyable that those realistic bloody action adventures that seem to crowd theater programs.

Even the lead actors, Neeson, leading lady Frances McDormand and bad-guy Larry Drake (tv's Benny from "L.A. Law.") seem over melodramatic to add to the fun.

We give this one four out of five stars for being unexpectedly good.

Be There

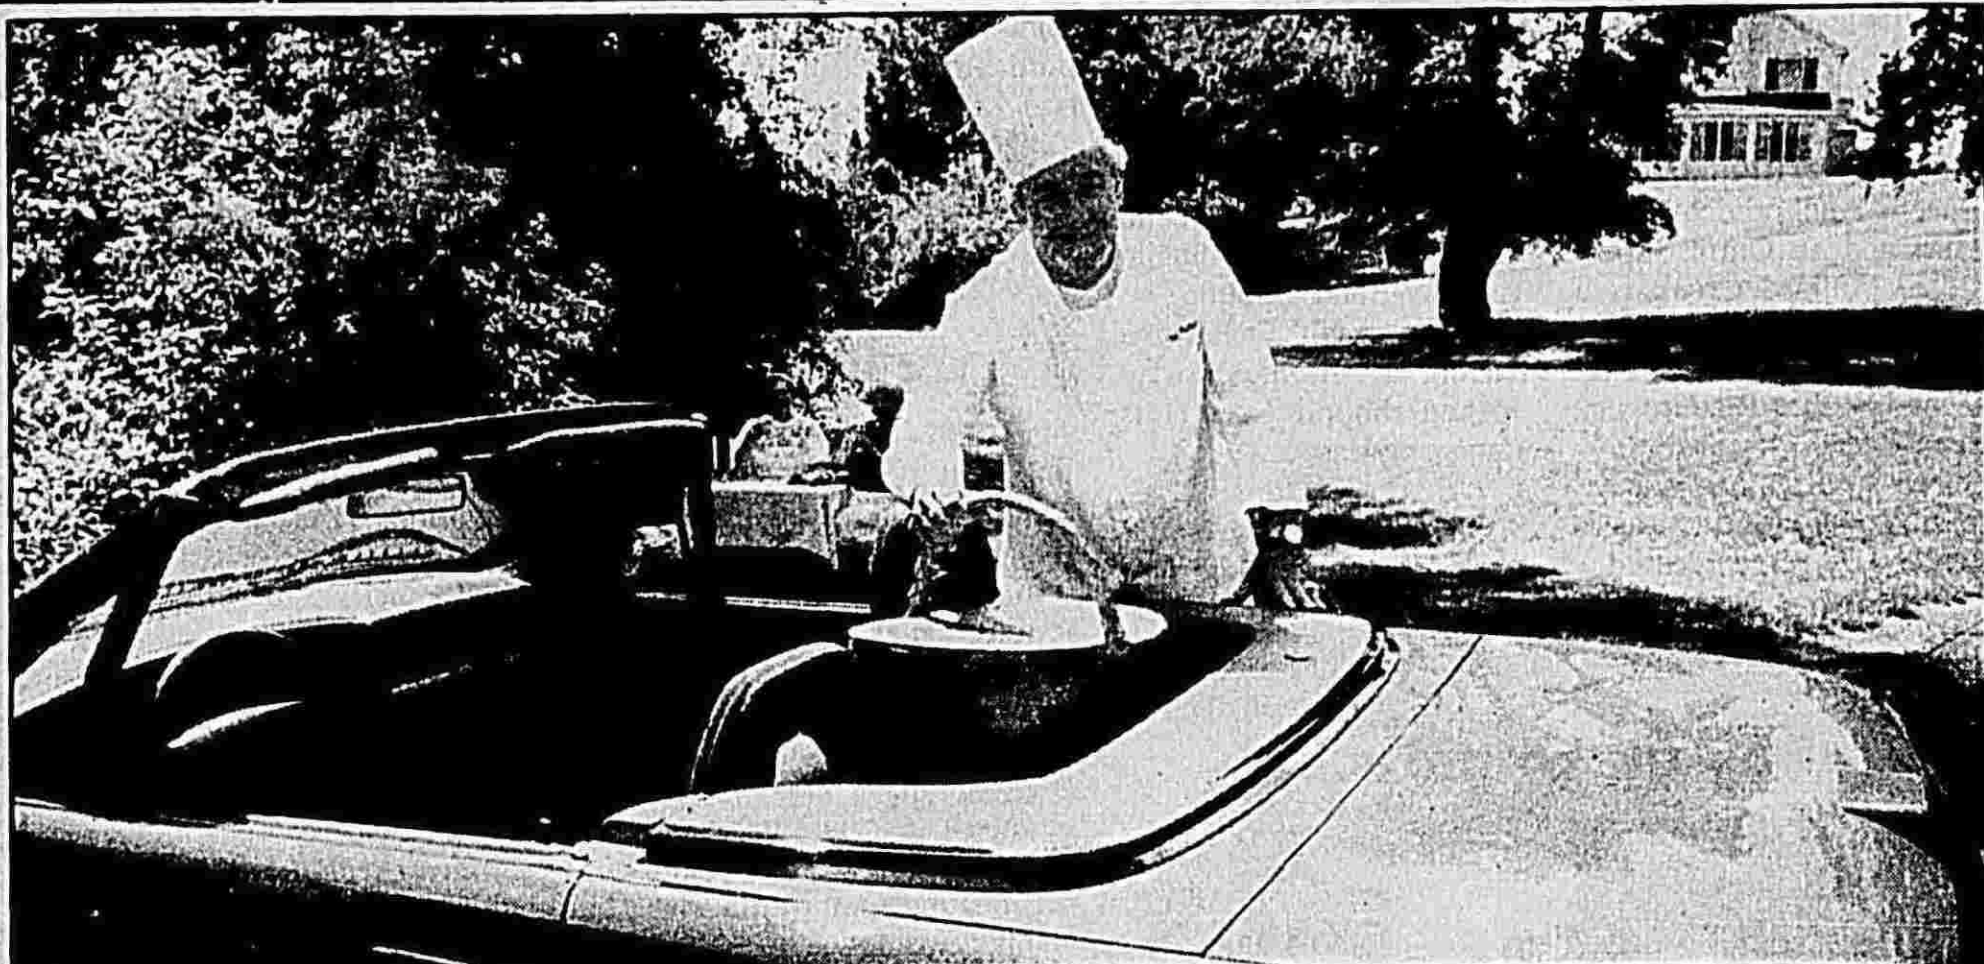

Calling all greyhound racing lovers! Geneva Lakes Kennel Club has launched a "Second Set of Wheels" month at the track in Delavan, Wis. For four Fridays in September, a good dependable used car will be awarded lucky patrons during the races.

It's that time of the year again, Oktoberfest Time! At Hans' Bavarian Lodge in Wheeling, that annual event will take place on Friday, Sept. 21, from 6:30 p.m. to 1:30 a.m., sponsored by United Airlines, featuring Blood, Sweat and Tears and Casablanca as well as bratwurst, sauerkraut and all that kind of thing. Donation is $15.95 for event and dinner and $9.95 for event with money going to Omni Youth Services. Reservation deadline is Sept. 20.

The CLC Dinner-Auction "Set Sail" is almost upon us, set for Sept. 15 at the College of Lake County. All proceeds will benefit the college's talent/leadership scholarship fund. The last auction held in 1988 raised $73,000 for scholarships.

Kinetic artist Steve Waldeck will be featured in a one person show at the Barrington Area Arts Council Gallery, from Sept. 7-28, Monday through Friday, 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. and Saturday, 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. His works feature traditional techniques of painting and sculpture as well as some with the added new dimension of electric light, motion and sound.

Anyone who is looking for good guitar music can do nothing but win by attending one of two concerts by legendary guitarist, Leo Koutke, at 8 p.m., on Sept. 21-22 at the Woodstock Opera House.

Area chefs prepare benefit feast

Chefs from over 30 northeastern Illinois restaurants are preparing their specialties for Victory Memorial Hospital's 10th Annual Famous Chef Cuisine Benefit. They're cooking tempting batches of gourmet foods such as spanakopita, Caritas Tacos, barbecue ribs, florentines, terrines, and zabaglione.

Nearly 1,000 guests are expected to enjoy the "festival of tastes" at Bernard Lincoln Mercury Center, 3400 Grand Ave., Waukegan, between 3 and 7 p.m. on Sunday, Sept. 23.

Proceeds will benefit the unique Adult Day Care Programs of Victory Health Services. There is a growing need for supervised, supportive care for older adults who can no longer care for themselves independently but who are not candidates for nursing homes.

Victory's innovative Adult Day Care Programs—Waukegan Adult Day Health Services, Waukegan; and Victory Lakes Adult Day Care, Lindenhurst—provide opportunities for socialization and independence to older residents of north Lake County.

The approach of fall, with leaves changing colors and the weather cooling, inspires many people to head for the nearest football stadium. On a crisp autumn day, what could be better? Only the added attraction of a tailgate picnic.

Tailgating is an all-American tradition enjoyed by generations of football fans. The first college football game featured Princeton and Rutgers in 1869, and tailgating couldn't have been far behind.

A tailgate party traditionally involves staking out a parking spot outside the stadium prior to the game. The part is centered around the tailgate of the car, usually with tables and chairs set up alongside. Creative tailgaters often embellish their picnic with decorations commemorating their team. Others endeavor to give their tailgate a unique theme with ornaments, banners or balloons to set them apart from the crowd.

With the exception of good friends, the most important component of a successful tailgate is good food—and lots of it. Some go for relatively maintenance-free eats prepared before the big day such as fried chicken, hoagies, potato salad and chips. One sure hit is the deli-garden sandwich round. To prepare, you'll need:

Deli-garden sandwich

- 1/2 cup salad dressing
- 1/4 cup finely chopped, seeded cucumber
- 1/2 tsp. dried basil leaves, crushed
- 1 (1 1/2 lb.) round sourdough bread loaf
- 6 salami slices
- 6 green pepper rings
- 6 American cheese slices
- 6 red onion rings
- 6 cooked turkey slices
- 6 red pepper rings

Mix salad dressing, cucumber, basil. Chill. Cut slice from top of bread loaf; remove center of bottom of bread loaf, leaving 1/2 inch shell; discard removed bread. Layer salami, green pepper, and half of salad dressing mixture in shell. Cover with cheese, onions and remaining salad dressing mixture; top with turkey and red pepper. Cover with top of bread loaf. Chill 3 hours or overnight. Cut into six wedges to serve.

Other ambitious tailgaters dress the event up a bit with a tablecloth, silver and fresh flower arrangements. They complement the decor with a more elaborate menu, including exotic dips and salads. Others go as far as serving hot foods right from a grill set up behind the car. Bowls full of steaming hot chili and homemade soups also are real crowd pleasers on a cold autumn day.

Popular beverages at tailgaters include soft drinks, hot chocolate or coffee and beer.

And who can forget dessert?

Quick pick-me-up desserts are a favorite, especially ones that travel well and serve easily. One delicious choice is chocolate caramel nut bars.

Chocolate caramel nut bars

- 1 (14 oz.) package caramels
- 1 (5 fl. oz.) can evaporated milk, divided
- 1 two-layer German chocolate cake mix with pudding
- 1/2 cup margarine, melted
- 1 cup real semi-sweet chocolate chips
- 1 1/2 cups chopped walnuts, divided

Preheat oven to 350 degrees. In medium saucepan, melt caramels with 1/2 cup milk over low heat, stirring until smooth. Set aside. In large bowl, mix together remaining milk, cake mix and margarine. Press half of cake mixture onto bottom of ungreased 13x9 inch baking pan. Bake 8 minutes. Sprinkle chocolate pieces and one cup of walnuts over crust; top with caramel mixture, spreading to edges of pan. Top with teaspoonfuls of remaining cake mixture; press gently into caramel mixture. Sprinkle with remaining walnuts. Bake 16 to 18 minutes. Cool. Cut into two dozen bars.

The theatre season continues with Neil Simon's "The Good Doctor" opening Feb. 22 and running through March 9. April 26 the opera company continues its season with a double bill including Pergolesi's comic opera, "The Maid Made Mistress" and Leonard Bernstein's "Trouble in Tahiti."

The five show joint season concludes with the theatre production of Sam Shephard's "True West," June 14 through June 29.

EYE CARE

News, Views & Questions About Your Eyes

By

Robert L. Epstein, M.D., Director
Illinois Center for Corrective Eye Surgery

QUESTION: Can Extreme Nearsightedness be corrected?

ANSWER: The ability to treat or correct nearsightedness depends upon the cause and severity of the condition.

Nearsightedness means the eyeballs are elongated preventing light rays from focusing properly on the retina. For most people this elongation ceases at a certain point and their vision can be corrected through surgery or with glasses or contact lenses.

For some people, the elongation never stops. The eye slowly becomes more and more severely nearsighted and will eventually become blind.

In these cases, an ophthalmologist might recommend stopping the elongation process through a surgical procedure known as scleral reinforcement.

During this surgery, a strip taken from the white part (sclera) of a donated eye is wrapped around the patient's eye to reinforce it, preventing the eye from continuing to elongate.

While this procedure has proven effective in stopping the deterioration of vision it should not be expected to correct a person's eyesight.

Skiing in Las Vegas

by JIM WARNKEN, PRESIDENT
NORTH STAR TRAVEL, INC.

I've always claimed there is more to do in Las Vegas than gambling. But snow skiing in an area known for sand and heat rather than snow and cold? You bet!

O.K., so you won't be able to climb aboard a chairlift at Caesar's Palace or go shushing down Las Vegas Boulevard any time before the next ice age. But a short drive of just 40 miles from the city of lights will put you smack in the middle of snow country!

Head out northwest of Vegas on Rte. 95. A left turn on Hwy. 156 and you'll find yourself in the Lee Canyon ski area of the Toiyabe National Forest. You're now high above the cactus and Joshua trees of the desert below. At this elevation (about 8,500 ft.) the climate is ideal for snow and snow making. You can ski from Thanksgiving to Easter!

An expert skier may find the slopes of Colorado a bit more challenging than what Lee Canyon can offer. But Vail or Winter Park don't have runs with names like "Highroller," "Slot Alley," and "The Strip." In all, about ten runs are serviced by three chair lifts.

There are two ski lodges in the area offering the usual amenities like fireplaces, saunas and whirlpools. But remember, this is Vegas territory. After a hard day of skiing, you can exercise your right arm on the slots while the kids head for the video arcade.

Let's say it's 95 degrees in Las Vegas and you decide you want to try some Nevada-style skiing. But the skis, parkas, and the rest are in the basement, at home, in Antioch. No problem. Head for "Ski Lee Rentals." You will find them at 2395 N. Rancho Rd. in Las Vegas. Not only can you rent all your equipment and buy your lift ticket right there, but you can hop on the Lee Canyon bus right outside their door and head for the slopes!

But if you are a real purest and must have your own equipment, let everyone think you are a little crazy and take those skis with you on your next trip to Las Vegas!

Knitting, an American tradition

Everyone's knitting again!

Housewives toss off a few rows during daytime television shows, career women slump into subway seats and speedily extricate yarn and needles from bulging briefcases.

Stitching students skulk in back rows of lecture halls to escape detection.

And it's not just women knitting. One liberated male exulted "Lots of men knit; no one pays any attention to me when I pull out my knitting and let'er rip!"

Whatever the motivation for this return to knitting, the desire to "make something from nothing," to create a garment distinctly one's own, to endow a loved one with a product of one's own hands.

Responding to the argument that men used to knit, a 19th century needlework magazine argued: "Whether he was slower in the work, or made a bad job of it, we are not told; but for some reason he dropped out, and a woman is now the admitted queen of needlework."

Still, to most, knitting was a feminine occupation, and needlework magazines and books capitalized on it.

Knitting for the man in one's life endowed the knitter with enviable rank. Of course, all women (and few men) knit during the Civil War, and if the socks, mittens, scarves, or sweaters went to unknown recipients, knitters consoled the soldiers that they still basked in the warmth of their generous hearts.

So, what's new in knitting? Not much, but everyone is certainly doing it, man, woman and child!

PET PARADE

Controlling indoor flea problem requires a complete program

Q. What is the best way to rid my house of fleas?

A. There are several important steps to take in order to effectively rid your house of fleas:

First, treat your animal's flea problem directly. Make sure your pet is well-cleaned and well-groomed to clear up this "mobile home" for fleas. After flea treatment, put fresh bedding in your pet's quarters. Also, treat your pet with a flea control product before allowing it to enter treated areas.

Second, treat highly infested areas. Use a water-based aerosol to spray high-infestation areas up close.

Third, treat indoor and outdoor perimeters. Use a home insect killer to spray a six-foot barrier around the outside of your house, and also spray along baseboards of infested rooms inside the home.

Fourth, treat infested rooms with a fogger. A water-based fogger will eliminate fleas without leaving behind a lingering odor and without staining floors or furniture like a petroleum-based product can. Use the fogger to control wide areas of your home.

For specific flea killers, look for a product that promises to remain effective for up to four weeks. Such a length of time is necessary to break the life cycle of the fleas infesting your home.

Q. How should I use a fogger?

A. Before the fogger's valve is pressed, it should be placed on a stand, table or floor in the center of the room with several layers of newspaper or pad under the fogger. Cabinets and doors to the area to be treated should be open. Fans and air conditioners should be shut off. All flames and pilot lights should be put out. You also should close all doors and windows in your home. After locking the valve, leave the treated area for two hours. When you return, open all doors and windows, turn on air conditioners and fans and let the treated area air out for 30 minutes. Repeat the spraying in two weeks to four weeks if necessary.

Q. What type of results can I expect for a water-based fogger?

A. Look for a water-based product that promises immediate results and continuing effectiveness for up to four weeks. There are foggers on the market capable of immobilizing 99 percent of fleas within two hours of initial treatment, with 99 percent dead after 24 hours.

Backs RV law

VERNON HILLS—The Village of Vernon Hills may begin to regulate the size and width of recreational vehicles. Rejecting the recommendation of the Vernon Hills Plan and Zoning Commission, the village board voted 4-2 at a committee-of-the-whole meeting to adopt new regulations. The regulations apply to vehicles whose overall length exceeds 20 feet, or whose height is greater than 10 feet. Voting for the rules were trustees Roger Byrne, Pam Newton, Don Hook and Richard Cashman. Voting against the new regulations were trustees James Heier and Alvin Israel.

Cub Scout sign-up

LAKE VILLA — The Lake Villa-Lindenhurst Cub Scout Packs 84 and 88 will hold a membership enrollment day at 1:30 p.m., on Sept. 9, at the Lindenhurst Civic Center.

Welcome members

NORTH CHICAGO—Gen. Pulaski Post 25 of the Polish-American Veterans will be swearing in a Vietnamese woman during a ceremony on Sunday, Sept. 9. Bob Miller will be swearing in a couple as new members during the ceremony at the post in North Chicago.

Select Roffman

GURNEE—Philip Roffman is the new principal at Warren Twp. High School. Roffman was selected by the Warren Board of Education after an extensive search which began this summer. Roffman, who had been principal at Lake Zurich Senior High School, is replacing Pat McMahon. McMahon will become the new superintendent of Warren upon the retirement of Robert Shepherd.

Eye tax dist.

FOX LAKE—Legal counsel and financial advisers are preparing a feasibility study to form a massive Tax Increment Financing (TIF) district in south Grant Township to provide funding for future southward expansion along Rte. 12. An initial report is due at a council meeting Tuesday, Sept. 11.

New school vote

MUNDELEIN—Fremont School is organizing a committee to help pass a $4 million building bond referendum on the November ballot. Plans call for the money to be used for construction of a new K-5 building close to a growing number of new home developments planned or being built near Mundelein. Enrollment has increased 10 percent a year at the rural one-school district to 655 students this year, which is considered capacity.

Fun Fest nears

WADSWORTH—Wadsworth residents will be able to enjoy the first Family Fun Fest on Saturday, Sept. 7 and 8. The event is being sponsored by the village of Wadsworth, Newport Twp. Volunteer Fire Dept. The fun begins at 6 p.m. Sept. 7 with the Little Miss Wadsworth Pageant at Wadsworth Village Hall. On Saturday, events include a parade starting at 1 p.m. from Cashmore Rd. traveling west to Wadsworth Rd. and to the railroad tracks. At 2 p.m. activities move to village hall grounds.

Plant expansion bid

VERNON TWP.—A proposed expansion of a Lake County Public Works facility drew a crowd of more than 50 area residents to the Vernon Twp. Center on Friday. There was no decision at the hearing. It will be continued to Sept. 21 at 1:30 p.m. at Vernon Twp. Center. The residents gave concerns on the proposal for an expansion suggested by the Lake County Public Works Dept. on a petition for a conditional use permit for its Des Plaines River sewage treatment plant off Milwaukee Ave.

Target Metra

FOX LAKE—The village council is planning a public meeting to afford commuters an opportunity to air grievances with a Metra plan to dead-head 11 morning trains from Fox Lake to Libertyville as part of an efficiency move. Trustee Kenneth Hamsher reported that Metra is agreeable to attending an open meeting. "We want to ask questions like, 'Will train crews be paid to ride empty trains,'" Hamsher declared.

Dumpster

worth billions of dollars needed all the drastic changes that the new organization deemed necessary.

When the ink on the buyout was scarcely dry, the hatchet-men went to work. First thousands lost their jobs when corporate headquarters was completely shut down.

This layoff and shutdown is soon spread to a large percentage of the field offices, leaving directors and supervisors to work without secretaries, from their own homes, reporting to the few distant field offices that survived.

Some might question the possibility of the company continuing to operate even as well as it had before the takeover. Those thousands of people who were not replaced must have done something to keep this business ship afloat!

With incentive bonuses eliminated and near-future raises declared to be out of the question, soon middle management found themselves saddled with a lot more work previously done by the "unneeded" employees.

This took place over a year ago and to this day, several of the upper management people are still hitting the bricks in search of a new job.

Besides seeking help from groups like ABLE and the Gray Panthers, after tiring of the never ending job search, many people have rejoined the working public by mortgaging everything they have to start a business of their own. Some end up better off financially than before, others find that shouldering the responsibilities of ownership is not all that it has been cracked-up to be.

Although the government refers to those that lose their jobs through corporate takeovers, layoffs, etc., as "dislocated workers," the only answer for many is to be literally dislocated and relocated by moving to a different area, away from family and friends, at an age when home means something.

For those that need their services, ABLE can be reached at (312)580-0369 or through the hot line mentioned previously. The Ill. Dept. of Aging has some job specialists that might be able to help some in need, call (217)785-3356.

Whatever group you go to for help, be sure to check it out thoroughly, especially if its "help" tends to be high priced. There are many con artists who are aware of the problem of employment for the aging who are low enough to compound their troubles.

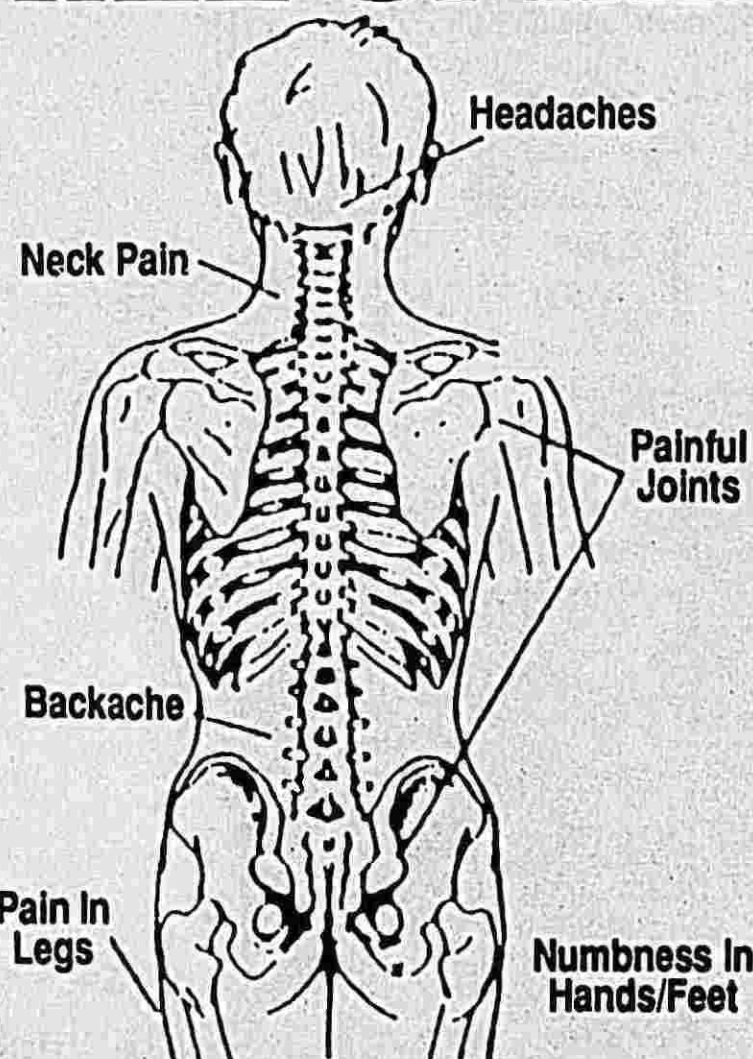

King and Queen "for a day"

King Joe Plucinski, from Mundelein, and Queen Helen Hansen, from Waukegan, were crowned at the annual Senior Citizens Recognition Day, presented each year by the Lake County Forest Preserve. Plucinski is a retired employee of the Forest Preserve. Hansen is from the Waukegan Senior Center.

Properly dispose of your used motor oil

If you perform your own oil changes you may not be sure what to do with that gallon of black, used motor oil sloshing around in your drain pan.

The U.S. Dept. of Energy estimates that 61 percent of do-it-yourself oil changers improperly dispose of their used motor oil by pouring it down a drain, or into the sanitary sewer system, pour it over a gravel road to keep the dust down, pour it over the ground in an out-of-the-way corner of your yard, or place it in a sealed container in your trash.

Do-it-yourselfers produce about 391 million gallons of used oil in a year, so almost 240 million gallons of used motor oil are dumped into the soil and water each year.

Pouring used oil into the storm sewer or sanitary sewer system is like giving it a direct pipeline to the water supply. If spread over the ground, the oil will seep into the groundwater, and eventually the water supply. The same is true of putting oil in the trash—when it is taken to the landfill, the container will break and the oil will run into the solid and water.

One quart of oil can ruin the taste of 250,000 gallons of drinking water, according to the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency. The same quart can produce a film two acres wide on the surface of water. It can kill plants and animals in water and cause serious damage to equipment at water treatment facilities.

On the other hand, used oil can be collected and reprocessed for new products, such as fuel oil substitute for industrial uses. The American Petroleum Institute estimates that if all of the U.S. could be collected and burned for electricity, it would meet the needs of 900,000 homes a year.

So what can you do with that used motor oil? The (Answers from Auto Quiz on page 25)

Answers:

1. (a) and (d) are correct. Overheating can burn valves, among the other internal engine parts. The transmission also can be damaged because it is cooled from the engine cooling system.

2. (a) and (d) are correct. Tire pressure changes one best solution is to find a used motor oil collection center in your community that will take your oil and properly dispose of it.

Many service stations, independent quick lubes and retail stores that sell new motor oil will also accept used oil.

It may take a little time to find a collection site near you, but protecting the environment is worth it.

A care that needs a tune-up generally improves fuel economy 10 percent or more. Starting dependability, performance, and exhaust emissions also are improved. New park plugs generally are part of a tune-up, since these are the "business end" of the ignition system.

pound for every 10 degree change in air temperature. Tire valves also can be a source of leaks and should be replaced when new tires are installed.

Note: Incorrect tire pressure greatly increases tire wear, insufficient pressure affects gas mileage.

3. (b) and (d) are correct.

THESE RACINE COUNTY PROPERTIES BY APPOINTMENT
What a beauty this remodeled farm house is! Sitting majestically on nearly 3 acres, this 3 bedroom home has been completely redone! It has 1-3/4 baths, a family room with sky lites, built-in appliances, a 28 x 50 barn, 5 stall stable, 2 fireplaces and the list goes on... This perfect little ranchette has been reduced to only $124,900.

Commercial. It has a present use as a Tavern/Hall with many big name Nashville Entertainers performing here! There's 2 separate halls one with a 700 person capacity, 2 bars, 2 stages, a dressing room, 3 sets of washrooms and much more. MANY OTHER POSSIBLE USES EXIST. This property has an excellent location on I-94 and is only 12 miles north on the State Line. With over 5 acres and the proper zoning, this would be a great location for any manufacturing company! Anxious owner asking $350,000.

ROSEMARY

OVERALL DIMENSIONS: 60'-0" x 53'-0"
LIVING: 2382 square feet
GARAGE: 629 square feet
COVERAGE: 2371 square feet

330-21 ROSEMARY
By Landmark Designs

The Rosemary's sharply peaked and varied rooflines echo the mountainous environment for which this Hawaii-inspired split-level home was designed. Wide expanses of window glass, generous placement of skylights, and an extended wrap-around deck allow for full appreciation of a richly foliaged landscape. Building on a slope would add wide vistas to the rest of the visual benefits.

Entry level is mid-level, with a luxurious master suite a half-story up, and utilities, guest suite, main bathroom and garage a half-story down. This is clearly not a home for individuals who need to avoid steps. However, if mobility is no problem, just living here provides the built-in bonus of a small daily dose of exercise. A laundry chute from the bathroom in the master suite on the upper level to the utility room on the bottom eliminates some trips down. Children will no doubt find far more interesting uses for the tube.

Ceilings are high and vaulted in all the mid-level rooms - entry, office, living room, family room and kitchen. The living room, awash with light from a wall nearly filled with glass, is spacious, but the family room/kitchen combination is even larger and brighter. The kitchen is built for efficiency, with plenty of extra storage available in the pantry and an eating bar built right into the food preparation island. A garden window and wide bay window look out over a deck, easily accessible for outside dining.

In recent years, more and more homeowners have been requesting home offices. If desired, this one could be fully separated from the living quarters by installing a door off the inside entry, adding an external door at the top of the front steps.

Two bathrooms are located on the lower level. One is part of a guest suite with an extra-large closet. Up two half-flights, the master suite, is brightened by skylights and totally private. It features an oversized walk-in closet and double vanities in a dressing area next to a large spa.

The garage, also at the lowest level, has plenty of extra space for storage and offers access to the lower level living quarters, right next to the utility room - convenient for washing up after gardening or working in the garage.

For a study plan of the ROSEMARY (330-21), send $5.00 to Landmark Designs, P.O. Box 2307, Eugene, OR 97402. (Be sure to specify plan name & number when ordering). Designers, Architects and readers with plans they would like to see featured also are invited to contact Landmark.

Slow start hurts Carmel team, aims to rebound

They say success is part inspiration and part preparation.

And Gordon Tech's football team used various levels of both to start the season with a 21-12 win over Carmel in Chicago Sunday.

Jerry Foster

"They came ready to play and we didn't. That's the coach's fault. I have to have them ready to play and I didn't," Carmel Coach Mike Fitzgibbons said.

Indeed, for a half of Sunday's game at Lane Tech Stadium, it appeared a walk two miles down Addison St. to Wrigley Field for the Cubs-Reds game would provide better entertainment.

But Carmel put together a strong second half which eventually put a score into the Rams, who led 21-0 midway through the second quarter.

"Our team has dedicated itself to play hard-nosed football," Gordon Tech Coach Tom Winiacki said.

The veteran mentor of more than 20 years at the Chicago school had his players remember well the slow start Carmel inflicted on the team last year with a 31-20 loss in the season opener.

Gordon scored first after a short six play drive in the first quarter. Damani Shakoor, a senior, tallied from one yard out for a 6-0 lead. The snap was poor on the point-after try, but the Rams ended up getting two points out of it when Joe Negron scampered in after escaping Carmel tacklers.

Gordon made it 14-0 in the second quarter when a Carmel penalty gave them the ball on the CHS seven. From there, Sean Byrne, another senior, tallied for a 14-0 lead.

A Carmel fumble led to the home team's third score just three minutes later. James McDonagh connected on a pass to Ted Cellak, who found the sideline after beating a Carmel defender.

Carmel began to show some life late in the second quarter.

Following the Rams' third touchdown, running back Jerry Foster and QB Todd Staehle brought the ball to the Gordon Tech six, where Foster did the honors.

The visitors were then sparked by an interception from Joe Cervantes. The linebacker snared the McDonagh pass near the sideline and returned it to the 29.

The Rams, hurt all afternoon by penalties totalling 60 yards, helped Carmel on the first two plays with miscues.

Jerry Foster led the Corsairs with 76 yards in 17 carries, and he and QB Todd Staehle set up the score by bringing the ball to the Gordon seven.

Staehle then found Pete Gramm open for a seven-yard strike and the Corsairs were in business, trailing 21-12.

The momentum appeared to be shifting Carmel's way when a Gordon punt went just 19 yards, giving Carmel possession at the Rams 33. But six running plays and an incomplete pass later, the Corsairs still could not score a TD and tried a field goal. They missed, preserving the home team's margin.

"The kicking game is probably the most important part of football," Fitzgibbons said.

Fitzgibbons, though, saw some positives to build on when the Corsairs host Woodstock Sept. 7.

"I saw some good things in the second half. We have to bounce back," Fitzgibbons said.

Hansen goes west, finds football success

by STEVE PETERSON
Lakeland Newspapers

Go west, young man.

And so far, Eric Hansen is pleased he followed the old saying made famous by Horace Greely.

Hansen Friday competed in a scrimmage for Cal Poly, a Division II school in San Luis Obispo, Calif.

"They are the best Division II school in California," Hansen said.

A few years ago, some would say his football career was over.

Hansen, a 1985 Warren graduate, started his football career at Augustana College. But things did not work out at the Rock Island school.

"I was not ready for school," Hansen said.

For two years, Hansen lived in Waukegan, working jobs around the area. It was after he had gotten married and enrolled at Palomar College in California that his football career resumed.

"I did not play my first year there, but I came out the second year and ended up starting," Hansen said.

Last fall all Hansen did was catch passes totalling more than 1,000 yards. He had a big finish, catching 15 in the final game of the regular season and topping that with a 16-catch performance in the Comets' 21-20 win over Ventura in the Hall of Fame Bowl.

"We did a lot of screens when the quarterback would line up in a shotgun formation and I would line up two yards off the ball.

Following the season, Washington University had shown interest in the wide receiver. But NCAA rules thwarted that opportunity to play Pac 10 football. Hansen applied for a hardship variance, but was denied because fifth year clauses can only be given for reasons of health.

But Hansen was able to recall old times when Warren football Coach Reggie Hughes caught up with him this summer.

"I always got along real well with Coach Hughes and we talked a lot about matters other than football," Hansen said.

Today's priority for Hansen is to obtain a degree. He is studying in pre-med and finance at Cal Poly.

Hansen played wing back and strong safety for a 1985 Warren team which made the playoffs in Head Coach Mike Kunkle's final season. Warren made the playoffs again in 1986, but has not been back since.

"He would just catch the ball and go," Hughes recalled.

The quarterback Don Nelson to Hansen combination worked 28 times that fall, and Warren only lost to Fenton in the regular season.

Hughes said Hansen would say he would be open on a specific kind of play, not just "I'm open."

Hansen is just one of several Warren grads now playing for football teams throughout the nation. Eric Divelbiss is at Augustana, Frank Bojnowicz graduated from Augustana last year, John Dolenmeyer is at Southern Illinois University, Jamie Loggins is at Illinois Wesleyan, Mike Waggner is at Augustana, Ken Woodard is at University of Wisconsin-Whitewater, Bob Brock is at Aurora University, Don Bendry is at Lake Forest College, Dave Sjong and Sean Smith are at Winona (Mn.), and Joe Semanski is at Ripon.

Vikings seek fourth win, revenge

When a football team notches its third straight win and third shutout on defense to start a new season, one might expect to see several high-fives, a video and maybe even a coach drenching with an appropriate thirst quencher.

But high-fives were kept to a few and the drinks kept in their coolers Monday as the Lake County Vikings shutout Gary 19-0. Instead, what transpired afterwards were team meetings which featured arguments between players and coaches.

"We have the makings of being a classy team and that means all facets. From the water boy being on the field on time to owners having tickets for the players and their families," Vikings Coach Al Clark said.

Clark said part of the problem is players not being able to attend regular Tuesday and Thursday practices and then showing up for games.

"Quite a few people have been unable to come to practice and the pieces are not polished," Clark said.

Despite the negatives on this warm and muggy Labor Day, there were plenty of positives to go around.

Starting quarterback Sam Toia and back-up Walter Tesch, who was playing at his old hunting ground of Purol Memorial Field at Round Lake Senior High School, combined for 19-for-27 pass completions.

One of those came in the fourth quarter as Tesch found Flea Johnson open for a 58-yard strike which made it 19-0.

"I made a quick turn and I was on my own," Johnson said.

Johnson, a University of Montana graduate, caught four passes against the Gary secondary.

"Flea is going out with a blaze of glory," Clark said.

Lake County started the game with a long drive of 54 yards in 12 plays, capped off by a one-yard run by Vice DeVost. An earlier touchdown pass from Toia to Cliff Paul was called back because of a penalty.

The Vikings' Chris Fridrick had two field goals, of 39 and 36 yards as the Vikings had offensive drives stalled.

The Vikes host Milwaukee at Mundelein High School at noon Sept. 9. Lake County lost to the Express twice by a combined three point margin last year.

"That's the one I want," Johnson said with confidence.

"I guarantee you it will not be the same," Clark said.

Farmer makes most of his chances on offense

As the days turned into weeks during pre-season drills at Libertyville High School, it became apparent to Tim Farmer that his position on defense was set.

The junior had nailed down a defensive back position in the Wildcats secondary. But offense, well, that was another question.

"I knew I was going to play defense, but I didn't know if I had a shot on offense," Farmer said.

On Saturday, Farmer made the most of his opportunities. His 49-yard touchdown scamper in the third quarter proved to be the difference as Libertyville rallied to edge Antioch 13-7.

Farmer praised Kevin Krakowski for throwing a key block on the run, which came after an Antioch punt.

"Anybody could have made it through that hole," Farmer said.

"They caught us in a straight man coverage. They did exactly what they had to do to spring the hole. Their offensive coach outcoached our defensive coach," Antioch defensive coordinator Mike Gordy said.

Farmer, 5-8, 155, also has a brother, Joe, on the team, a backup quarterback and safety. "It helps extremely," the junior Farmer said.

The Farmers were born in Danville.

Farmer had been inserted into the backfield on the Wildcats' rotation schedule.

Antioch tried the same strategy. "We rotated people in because of the heat," Antioch Coach Del Pechauer said.

The sunny 90-degree plus Saturday marked the debut of the Libertyville High new press box as well as a strong showing from senior quarterback John Garwal. Garwal did not see much action as a junior due to a dislocated shoulder. Garwal had an effective passing day, throwing the ball to Libertyville tight ends. "Our trainer, Ron Russ, gave me some throwing exercises like a baseball pitcher," Garwal said.

"We put in the whole offense and now we just added a few wrinkles," Garwal said. "We know our offensive line has it down in blocking."

Libertyville, which is at rival Mundelein Sept. 8, started the season against an emotional Antioch squad which took an early lead.

Linebacker Tom Lehn picked off a loose ball and ran it 32 yards for a score for a 6-0 Antioch lead. The Libertyville faithful had thought Garwal's hand had indicated a forward pass.

"It was a close call," Libertyville offensive coordinator Karl Jennrich said.

Libertyville had tied the game a few minutes earlier as running back Don Blue scored from one-yard out. Big plays in the drive included a 14-yard pass from Garwal to tight end Eric Kaufman and an eight-yard pass to Blue.

Antioch got the ball back a series later on a fumble, but had to punt the ball and a personal foul against Antioch set up Farmer's touchdown run.

Antioch hosts Lake Forest Sept. 8 in a 2 p.m. battle with two teams looking for their first win.

Golfers win first, 100th for Paddock

Grayslake's boys golf team started the new season on a right note by winning a Northwest Suburban Conference match 184-190 over Marengo.

The win was Coach Cherrie Paddock's 100th.

Junior Bill Zandrowicz had the low score for Grayslake with a 45. Kevin Schwinn, a sophomore, had a 46 and Geoff Spanholtz, a freshman, had a 47.

Paddock, whose streak of coaching six straight NWSC titles came to a halt last year when the Rams finished third, described her team as young for 1990. Three sophomores, three juniors and two seniors are on the team.

Paddock said she was pleased with the showing for the season opener, noting the team has had trouble with Marengo Ridge course in the past. "Even our championship teams have lost there. It has a lot of blind spots," she said.

Paddock expects Johnsbury and Round Lake to be the top contenders in the NWSC golf race.

ACHS makes playoff try

ANTIOCH: Coach Del Pechauer is settling into his third season at Antioch and looking for the first winning record. Antioch improved to 4-5 last year and has five starters back on defense, four on offense.

Dan Pappadakis, who played in three games last year, will get the call at quarterback. A 5-8, 170 pounder, Pappadakis uses a roll-out style to overcome a height disadvantage. Dale Morgan, a backup last year to Glenn Graham, returns at flanker.

Returning linemen include defensive end Chris Glick and Mike Warren, who was injured last year.

Pechauer said he has been looking at a number of kickers and in one case, is seeing double as Tim and Tom Lehn are identical twins.

Juniors Jeff Fogel, Matt Beattie, Mike Zbylut compliment senior linebackers John Dahl, Ken Paddock and Jack Thompson. The Antioch line figures to be opening some holes as six players go 230 or better. They are: junior Kevin Wisniewski, a 6-0 247 pound tackle; junior Dan English, a 5-8 235 pound center; junior Phil Power, a 6-3, 233 offensive guard; junior Kris Green, a 6-1 230 pound offensive tackle.

Libertyville expects to challenge in NSC race

Learning the offense and defense are always important parts of the pre-season agenda.

But when it comes to the Libertyville football team, the factor is more pronounced this year because of several new faces Coach Dale Christensen is getting to know.

"Installing the playbook went smoothly," Christensen said.

Gone are familiar names such as Jack Hendershot and Bart Nielsen which played havoc with North Suburban Conference foes over the last four years. Libertyville is coming off a 9-3 record in 1989. Some 54 players reported to Wildcats' camp this summer, with four back on offense and defense from starting roles.

At tight end, Christensen can call on his son Matt, a 6-4, 227 pound senior, or Eric Kaufman, a 6-3, 205 pound senior.

The offensive line is "showing a great deal of hustle in coming off the ball," Christensen said.

John Garwal, a 5-10 160 pound senior, gets the call at quarterback this fall. "He is a fine leader and has the quarterback mentality you like to see," Christensen said. Garwal did not play much last year because of a dislocated shoulder injury.

At running back, the Wildcats can call on a host of talent. Don Blue is a 6-2, 212 pound senior, Brad Hughes is 6-2, 190; Mike Russert is a 6-0 175 pound senior who is also listed as a backup QB. Scott Switzer is a 5-9, 145 pound senior and Tom Farb is a 5-8, 170 pound senior.

Seniors leading the way as receivers include Brian Mason, 5-10, 165 pounder and Dave Martin, 6-0 175 pounder.

Hughes will handle the LHS placekicking chores.

As far as the NSC race goes, Christensen started the year seeking his 100th victory in the league. "We expect to challenge but there are a couple of teams with more talent, North Chicago and Lake Forest," Christensen, in his 18th year at the helm at LHS, said.

Seniors looking to contribute as linemen include: 6-4 224 pound tackle Armen Tatevosian; 5-9 2-00 pound center and nose guard Marc Belluomini; 6-2 215 pound tackle Chris Love.

On defense, the Wildcats have a "number of holes to fill," Christensen said. But back are his son Matt, the team's leading tackler last year with 78 and Mason at safety.

The good news for Libertyville fans is Matt is not the last in the long line of Christensen sons to don the orange and black. Dale's youngest, Reed, is a freshman tight end.

"No one ever has any pressure. We do not talk much football at home," Christensen said.

Eric Christensen is a starting tackle at Indiana State.

Pats aim for playoffs, MHS seeks respect

MUNDELEIN: new football Coach Mike Egan will be looking to bring the Mustangs back to respectability after a winless season. Despite the frustration of a year ago, 33 Mustangs reported for the first day of practices.

"Everything is a little more intense. The attitude has been pretty good," Egan, a former sophomore coach with the Mustangs, said.

Three starters are back on offense and three on defense for MHS.

Scott Frank, a 5-10, 170 pound senior, is the quarterback for the second straight year. "He has been concentrating on making the right moves and adjustments," Egan said.

Also back is running back Larry Maddock. Alvin Cruz, a junior, is the top returning player on defense.

Frank will have plenty of receivers to choose from as senior John Grandt, junior Mike Hynes, senior Angie Calanca, senior Mike Namovicz, and senior Tom Mullen are listed on the depth chart.

STEVENSON: "We have some returning people back and we are in reasonably good shape," Stevenson football Coach Bill Mitz said one day during practice.

Junior Aaron McCullough and senior John Ebert are the likely candidates for quarterback. McCullough is 14-2-1 in starts over the last two years.

Chris Piggott, a senior, returns as a wide receiver. Also back is senior running back John Dant. The running back depth chart is a deep one as Darrell Martin, Kevin Amidei and junior Marvin Cudia are all seeking playing time.

Pats

The captains for the year will be fullback-linebacker Mark Robich and running back Brett Frain.

In the secondary, Ebert is back at cornerback and Piggott returns at safety.

Steve House and Bryan Makendick are returning linemen.

Junior Brent Kenson is the team's kicker and has a habit of kicking the ball into the end zone.

Jim Kreutz, 6-1, 195, will play center and Steve Meyer, 6-1, 272, anchors the line from his tackle position.

One thing for sure can be said about this year's senior class. They are used to winning. As freshmen, they were 6-2-1, with the same record as sophomores.

Mitz came into the season with an even 37-37 record at Stevenson.

Talking Bulldog football

Grant assistant football coach Brian Kibittlewski, left, and head coach Rob Kruse discuss practice plans. Bulldogs are hoping to rebound from 2-7 season in 1989. Grant hosts Grayslake Sept. 14 in Northwest Suburban Conference contest.

Panthers set to dethrone Hurricanes from NWSC

Although Mike Dunn has been a football coach for more than 20 years, he says the enthusiasm is still there as another campaign unfolds.

And as usual, he has sound reason for optimism at Round Lake. The Panthers are the best challenge to knock off prennial Northwest Suburban Conference powerhouse Marian Central and are Lakeland Newspapers' pick to win the NWSC.

Quarterback Mike Bragg, 6-0 190, returns as does fullback Aric Rodriguez, tight end Terry Brage, running back Garrett Horn, tackle Marx Drath, running back Jim Laubinger, and full back Tom Edwards. There are 30 seniors and 48 total players on the Round Lake roster, one of Coach Dunn's larger teams. "The seniors give us a great attitude," Dunn said.

The defense will be in a rebuilding year as the Panthers are adjusting to a new system. Longtime defensive coordinator Steve Lee has accepted an administrative position at Barrington High School. Pat Coon, Round Lake High grad and former freshman coach, will be taking over the duties on defense.

Adam Tesch

"We have some quality kids," Dunn concluded.

There are 30 seniors on the roster and Dunn says they are providing leadership.

Dunn described Bragg as an option quarterback while junior Adam Tesch is "more of a thrower."

Linemen back include Geoff Stanley, at 6-3 190 pounds and guard Steve Pressoir.

Fullbacks include juniors Ted Burchi, Tracy Jones, Sean Farley and Pat McCue.

Round Lake, known for its dominating linemen, has some ready to take charge this year in the trenches. Senior Nick Mastandrea is a 6-0 230 pound guard, junior Jay Center, at 6-2 220 pounds and Aaron Gibson, 6-1 215 at center. Round Lake has a grueling drill called "Phase One" which the coaching staff hopes will make a difference. The annual test will come early this year, Sept. 14 in Woodstock against Marian Central.

"Grayslake could be the darkhorse," Dunn said of the NWSC race.

Dunn should know, as he was impressed with Grayslake quarterback Tom Culhane in a seven-on-seven league.

GRAYSLAKE: "Rams History" the buttons were hamded out to Grayslake High School as a way of celebrating enthusiasm for a playoff game at HS. The Rams had made post-season party with a record.

far as Bill Johnson is cerned, a certain game west in McHenry county against Marengo the turning point. The ns, of course, road the mentum off that win to st playoff appearance. Coach Johnson believes program may not have ched the status of Marian ntral, the king of the orthwest Suburban nference football circles, it has reached the next elon with Lake Zurich and Round Lake.

"That was the turning point," Johnson said of the Marengo contest.

Mike Duchane has graduated at running back and is now at Northern Illinois University, but 14 lettermen, including quarterback Tom Culhane and 13 other veterans return. The roster has 32 players, up by seven from last year.

Senior Dan Sharp, out last year due to eligibility problems, is back as a 5-10, 180 pound fullback. Travis Lloyd and Mark Sneyd also return and are threats on offense. Sneyd averaged 4.8 yards a carry last year.

"We will still be a 90 percent running team," Johnson said.

Johnson said in the past the opponents knew the Rams were going to go to Duchane in tough situations. Now they will not know whom the Rams will call on.

"It gives us a chance to diversify our offense" Johnson said.

Opposing defenses will have to contend with the blocking of tight end John Jackson, a 6-4, 220 pound senior and Jim Silva, a 6-1, 170 pounder.

Shawn Walker, a sophomore who was brought up from the sophomore squad for the playoff loss to Lake Forest last year, is a 6-1, 220 pound lineman.

"It gave us credibility with the colleges," Johnson said of the playoff showing.

"Rams History" the buttons read before the 41-0 loss to Lake Forest.

Rams fans are hoping history repeats, with a closer score, though.

There is a change in the Rams coaching staff at the sophomore level. Mike Jones is the new head soph coach while Greg Groth is now an assistant.

LAKE ZURICH: Lake Zurich Bears have made more playoff appearances than any non-Woodstock based team in the Northwest Suburban Conference over the past three years and Bears fans would like to keep it that way.

The Bears have a young team, though, as they prepare for the final year in the Northwest Suburban Conference.

Key players to watch for Lake Zurich include returning all-conference players linemen Derek Pijut, a 6-1, 200 pound senior and Bill Metes, a 6-2, 190 pound senior. Halfback Mike McCallum, a 5-8, 155 pound senior and John Cuvallar, a 6-1, 218 pounder, also return to the offensive line.

Brian Krzeminski, a 6-0, 155 pound junior, will be calling the signals for the Bears.

GRANT: The Bulldogs have had a rough start with injuries and players ruled to be academically not eligible. Three have been ruled unable to play because of classroom problems, two of which were two-way starters.

"That's like losing four players," said Coach Rob Kruse.

To combat the academic woes, Kruse vows that grades will be closely checked on a weekly basis. Discipline woes rocked the Grant boat last year as the Bulldogs struggled in Kruse's first season.

Aaron Foszcz, a 6-2, 190 pound senior, is the leading candidate at quarterback.

"Our attitude has totally changed," Kruse said.

Senior Tony Van Sickle, a 5-11, 200 pound linebacker and fullback will miss the start of the season due to an injured cartilage.

At running back, Chris Alex, a junior, returns after starting all games last year. Brett Morely, a 5-9, 150 pound running back, also started in all games last year.

Josh VonBruenenhein, a 5-9, 150 pound defensive back returns.

Signal callers

Jon Ebert (3) and Aaron McCullough (10) are the leading candidates for quarterback at Stevenson High School. Pats are one of the contenders in this fall's North Suburban Conference race along with Libertyville, North Chicago and Lake Forest.

Early numbers are in Warren's favor

When it comes to numbers, the Warren Blue Devils have reason to be happy this August.

Starting with 56 reporting for the varsity, up from 38 last year to 42-45 on the freshmen squad and 27-30 sophomores. To three quarterback candidates whom coaches believe can do the job and six starters back on offense, 14 all told.

Junior Craig Shelton and senior Mike Maar are the leading candidates at quarterback with Jeremy Wilmot, a junior, also ready to step in. All will see playing time on defense as well. Shelton will be a safety and Wilmot will also be in the secondary.

The backfield will lose Buck Phillips, who transferred back to North Chicago for his senior year.

"You can't lose a player with Buck's quality without affecting plans. We knew he would be moving in January," Hughes said.

Steve Shively, a 6-0 185 pound senior and Rod Ames, a 5-8, 155 pound senior, are leading pass catchers for the Blue Devils.

Jeff Ray, who played in three-fourths of the season last year, is a wing back and Jeff Evius, 5-9 155 pound senior, is also listed at that position.

Senior linemen back include Tom Hill at center, a 5-11, 195 pound senior, who started in all nine games last year. Jason Croft, a 6-1 245 pound 6-1 245 pound senior, played in all games on offense as a tackle and seven on defense.

Skyhawks hoping to see home light

JOHNSBURG: The lights have been turned on at Johnsburg High but the question is whether or not the Skyhawks will turn the corner.

Coach Hap Farlow points out that while the Skyhawks suffered through a 1-8 campaign last year, five of those losses were to playoff teams.

Scott Dullberg and Matt Dulberg are candidates for the QB job. Dulberg is a 5-11, 175 pound senior while Matt Christman is a 6-1, 180 pound junior. "Matt reads the keys well," Farlow said.

At running back, Johnsburg can call on fullback Mike Kramer, a 5-11 180 pound senior, Andy Davis, a 5-11 160 pound senior or Rich Miller, a 5-10, 155 pound junior.

Top pass catchers are Phil Ferrell, a senior, Tim Heumann, the last in a long line of Heumann brothers.

Offensive linemen include: 6-0, 205 pound Chris Jawkowski, a senior and Don Kibbe, a 6-2 235 pound senior. Skip Madsen, a 6-1, 250 pound tackle, could be a force to be reckoned with.

Residents voice input on North Old Rand Park

by DONNA DUNCAN
Lakeland Newspapers
Parking and walking paths were among the concerns residents brought up to park department members during a discussion on proposed development for North Old Rand Park.

Park officials are planning to develop a "passive" park, with a youth and tot playground area and a walking path on a partially wooded eight-acre site. The area is located between Lorraine Dr. and North Old Rand Rd.

The plans must go to the village board for final approval.

The earliest the park would be developed is Oct. 1991.

At the point during the meeting, Rob Boyce, president of Bay Shore Homeowners Assn., said he was concerned about people parking in the townhome parking lot.

"I'd like to see access by pedestrians only," he said.

Boyce also drew up the landscape plan for the park, which he said includes many of the original trees.

North Old Rand Park is among several parks in town that the park board plans to improve so they can be used as neighborhood parks. But a common theme among public input sessions is residents' concern that people would flock from across town to use "their" park.

"...Our intent is to develop a neighborhood park so everyone has a park within walking distance or biking distance," Gephardt said.

The park also includes the old Metropolis Home, which park officials received approval to locate their offices there temporarily, to free up space at the Barn on Whitney Rd.

Park and Recreation Dept. Director Randy Reopelle said it would take 90 days because the park dept. had to go through the village zoning process.

FOOT FACTS From The FOOT DOCTOR

Dr. Winters

Dr. Griff J. Winters & Assoc.
Specializing in Reconstructive Foot & Ankle Surgery

PLANTAR WARTS

Warts are caused by a virus infection and are often mistaken as corns and calluses. Warts on the bottom of the foot penetrate deep under the skin like a mushroom, because of pressure in standing. Unlike corns and calluses, the center encapsulated area usually has rust-colored spots that are small blood vessels and nerves that supply the wart. For this reason warts are more painful with side to side pinching.

Warts are contagious to susceptible people and are usually found in adolescents.

If the plantar wart is small and discovered early, prescribed chemical agents often times are all that are needed. For large or resistant warts, we often times use Laser surgery that gives good results with minimal discomfort. This is done on an out-patient basis and the patient loses no time off his feet.

If you have the above symptoms or any other foot discomfort, you may contact Dr. Winters for a NO COST CONSULTATION to see if there may be an answer to your foot pain.

Extension offers Sept. 20 recycling program

Lake County residents are being urged to "Become part of the Positive Cycle" by learning how to recycle, reuse and recycle their household waste at two free programs Sept. 20 at the University of Illinois Cooperative Extension Service Educational Center in Grayslake.

The first program will feature a tour of Pheasant Run Landfill from 9 - 11:45 a.m., followed by a sack lunch, a recycling contest, and "wretched excess" awards by Lynn Oberg of Windstar Connection. Carol Stewart of Welton's Management Service will discuss packaging from a grocer's viewpoint and Lee Adleman of Waste Management will follow the showing of the WTTW video, "Recycling - The Case Against Garbage". Mr. Adleman will discuss "Garbage - Yesterday, Today and Tomorrow".

The evening program, from 7 - 9:30 p.m., will be a repeat of the noon - 3 p.m. program.

In the past, Americans were content with an "out of sight, out of mind" waste disposal philosophy. But with landfill space rapidly shrinking in Illinois and elsewhere, people are beginning to realize that throwing the one-liter soda bottle into the trash has local, as well as state, national and global implications. Like the rest of the nation, Illinois is running out of places to stash its trash.

For more information, or to pre-register for either program call the Lake County Cooperative Extension Service offices at (708)223-8627.
